Police Inquiry In Vancouver Now Request of Board

Commission Asks Investigation of Charges Arising From W. A. Tucker's Report

Dismissal Of Tucker Urged

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Nov. 13.—An immediate investigation of charges and allegations arising out of the report of W. A. Tucker, police accountant, on police administration in Vancouver was asked today by the Vancouver Police Commission, meeting to discuss the report.

The commission also adopted a resolution calling for immediate dismissal of Tucker.

Commission members affirmed they had "all confidence" in Col. W. W. Foster, chief constable of the Vancouver police force, and in his administration of the duties of his office.

A copy of Tucker's report will be sent to Premier T. D. Pattullo at Victoria, since the administration declared it contains charges against the British Columbia Attorney-General's Department.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The resolutions adopted by the police commission today were handed to them as recommendations from a special committee, consisting of Judge J. N. Ellis and Police Magistrate H. S. Wood, appointed to decide whether the report submitted by Tucker should be made public.

It is not known if the City Council will grant the requested inquiry.

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Nov. 13.—The Vancouver Daily Province in a front-page news story said the report of W. A. Tucker, accounting clerk of all offices under the jurisdiction of the Vancouver Police Commission, "contains charges of un-British, unsportsmanlike and un-Christian treatment to which he claims he has been subjected during the last two months and appeals to the general public and the Ministerial Association to note his protest and see that justice is done."

The newspaper said the Tucker report, not yet made public officially, "advocates appointment of a committee of reorganization from the members of the police department to draw up a series of recommendations of police requirements."

"He recommends the discharge of three high officials of the police department, mentioning that the commission (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

The British Columbia Department of Lands has not completed any transaction to acquire and preserve Cathedral Grove, the fine timber stand on the Island Highway near Cameron Lake, Hon. A. Wells Gray, the minister informed the B.C. Legislature in answer to questions.

While the full size of the Grove has not been estimated there are 2,736 acres and 150,000,000 board feet of timber within one block, he said.

Portland, Eng., Nov. 13.—Something like King's weather was provided for His Majesty's second day with the Home Fleet.

Amid bright sunshine the commander-in-chief of the Home Fleet, Sir Roger Backhouse, left the flag-ship, the Nelson, in a speedy barge for the Royal yacht Victoria and Albert.

A few minutes later the King, Sir Samuel Hoare, First Lord of the Admiralty and Lord Louis Mountbatten, the King's personal aide-de-camp, left the yacht in the barge to visit the Lucia, submarine depot ship.

Injunction Is Called Grudge

Frank Graham Tells Private Bills Committee Such Action Is "Sniping"

Action of John Day in his injunction proceedings against Mayor Leeming and Alderman P. R. Brown, finance committee chairman, was called a grudge move by Frank Graham, a Victoria taxpayer, appearing before the private bills committee of the Legislature this morning in respect to a plan to nullify the disqualification of the two council members.

"I don't think it is fair that our laws are such that any man with a grudge against our elected representatives can go ahead sniping like this," said Mr. Graham.

"I object to being called a sniper," interjected Mr. Day.

"Mr. Graham wasn't referring to you directly," said Arnold Hanna, Comox, committee chairman. "You are satisfied with your mayor and alderman," he added to Mr. Graham.

"I am," said Mr. Graham. "Mayor Leeming has been in office longer than any other man has ever held the position. Alderman Brown has topped the polls repeatedly. When an election is pending it is not becoming for anyone to start a thing of this kind."

Port Strike In Third Week

U.S. Assistant Labor Secretary Works on Hiring Hall Issue in Attempt to Settle Pacific Shipping Walk-out

Associated Press

San Francisco, Nov. 13.—Assistant Labor Secretary Edward F. McGrady planned a new attack today on the crucial hiring hall issue in attempts to arrange a peace conference between employers and striking maritime unions, whose walkout two weeks ago throttled United States Pacific Coast shipping.

The fifteenth day of the strike, affecting 37,000 union workers, found no break in the deadlock, with idle ships clogging coast ports and sympathy strikes along the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico coasts.

Before the Federal Maritime Commission were union charges that employers hired "spies" and tapped telephone lines in efforts to "discredit" the union movement and the union right of collective bargaining.

CARGO OF FRUIT

In Los Angeles a federal marshal was ordered to show cause why he could not carry out a federal court order to unload perishable cargo.

McGrady said he would present to shipowners today a guarded proposal for control of waterfront hiring halls, which both unions and employers are disputing.

Two Destroyers to Replace Vancouver And Champlain

War Vessels Purchased From Britain Expected to Arrive at Bases in Canada in April; Either Cygnet Or Crescent Will Be at Esquimalt

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, Nov. 13.—The Winnipeg Board of Trade appealed today for honesty in all contractual obligations. A resolution it adopted asked the people and governments of western Canada to avoid "measures that dispel confidence in contractual relations, undermine integrity and destroy credit."

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—The destroyers, Cygnet and Crescent, being purchased by the Dominion government from Great Britain to replace the Vancouver, stationed at Esquimalt, B.C., and the Champlain, stationed at Halifax, N.S., are expected to arrive in Canadian waters next April.

The purchase of the war vessels was announced yesterday evening by Premier King, following a cabinet meeting.

The purchased destroyers are practically identical with the Saguenay and Skeena which are a part of Canada's naval defence and which were also completed in 1931. Cost and further particulars of the new craft will be announced when Parliament is asked to vote the necessary appropriation.

CANADIAN CREWS

Once the transfer from Britain is made the two vessels will be manned by Canadian officers and crews as was the case with those being displaced.

The official statement issued yesterday evening said:

"The destroyers Champlain and Vancouver, which were borrowed from the British Government in 1928 and have since been maintained by Canada as a part of the Canadian Naval Service, have become practically obsolete and under treaty provisions are due for scrapping by the end of this year. ## NO CONFIDENCE MOVE FAILS

Planta Motion in House Defeated 31-11 on Party Lines

Just before the luncheon adjournment at 1 o'clock today the Pattullo government was sustained 31 to 11 in the B.C. Legislature on a vote of confidence motion by Clive Planta, Independent, Peace River, seconded by Ernest Bakewell, Social Constructive, Mackenzie.

The vote was on straight party lines, all the Liberals supporting the government while opposition members of all shades stood with Mr. Planta.

Mr. Planta preceded his motion with an attack on government policies and charged the administration with not satisfactorily carrying on the country's business.

Seeing signs of an election in the office, he expressed disappointment no amendment to the Elections Act or a redistribution of seats on an economic basis had been brought down.

Mr. Bakewell said that the errors of commission and omission were only to be expected from a government of government dominated by a political machine.

The budget debate continued this afternoon with Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, speaking for the government, and is expected to conclude sometime today.

Other speakers today were E. T. Kenney, Liberal, Skeena, and Harold Winch, C.C.F., Vancouver East.

Mr. Kenney spent the greater part of a twenty-minute address, in a cross-fire with Vancouver members about the allocation of provincial expenditures. The claim that Vancouver paid 75 per cent of provincial revenues was unjustified, he said, and quoted at length from provincial reports on this point. He dealt in the same manner with the suggestion that Vancouver did not get a fair share of expenditures, being interrupted repeatedly by Vancouver members.

Discussing the increase in provincial expenses generally, he said he thought it was a good idea for the government to seek improvement in the standard of living before it started building up its sinking funds.

Two B.C. Men Slain In Mexico

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Nov. 13.—Word was received here today of the murder in Durango State, Mexico, of Major John C. Hartley, Vancouver prospector and engineer, and E. M. Geake of the Peace River District.

T. F. Dagg, Vancouver stockbroker and a friend of Geake, received word of the double slaying from the British consul-general at Mexico City. W. E. Williams, K.C., solicitor for Major Hartley, was also officially advised of the slaying, details of which were not given.

Major Hartley and Geake left here last spring for a mining venture in Mexico. Major Hartley was blind.

The granting of the right to serve beer and wines in public dining-rooms in Victoria, or a petition on the question, has been "under consideration" by the provincial government, Attorney-General Sloan informed the B.C. Mr. Sloan declined to indicate what course might be taken as the result of the petition on this question submitted in September last year, stating this was a "matter of policy."

The petition, he said, was signed by 8,417 registered voters of Victoria, representing 42.32 per cent of the registered vote, and by 2,747 others who claimed eligibility to register.

Six Insurgent Planes Shot Down in First Battle of Day and Bombardment of City Prevented, But Attacking Squadron Returns Hours Later and Big Bombs Cause Destruction at Barracks and Line of Fortifications; Government Troops Claim 2½-mile Advance West of Madrid

By H. E. KNOBLAUGH Associated Press Foreign Staff

Madrid, Nov. 13.—Madrid's Montana Barracks and the whole line of fortifications in the vicinity of the Segovia Bridge were bombed in a daring insurgent air raid late today—several hours after government planes had won a spectacular victory in a battle over the capital, when they shot down six Fascist planes as thousands of people watched.

Three Fascist trimotors, guarded by six pursuit planes, roared out of a dense cloudbank in the western sky at 3.20 p.m. and spilled fourteen huge bombs.

Five of the projectiles hit the Montana Barracks, where several thousand government troops are quartered.

Other screaming missiles, dumped by the air raiders, fell on the line of fortifications. Two of them exploded in a built-up sector, wrecking three two-story houses.

FLEE TO WEST

Black billowing columns of debris and smoke shot into the air as the raiders, having completed their mission of death and destruction, fled to the west.

Ten Socialist pursuit planes immediately roared into the skies and engaged the six Fascist fighting escort planes in a spectacular aerial battle—the second dog-fight over Madrid of the day.

The enemy planes, however, taking advantage of the dense clouds which shielded their approach, made their escape.

FIST FIGHTS IN FRENCH HOUSE

Stormy Session of Chamber of Deputies Ends in Wild Melee as Leftists and Rightists Come to Blows

Canadian Press
Paris, Nov. 13.—Swinging fists of leftist and rightist deputies stopped a stormy session of the Chamber of Deputies today.

The trouble began during a debate over the Great War record of Roger Salengro, Minister of the Interior.

Opposing deputies shouted invective at each other and when Premier Blum mounted the tribune, the leftists rushed from their benches and swarmed over the rightists in a mad melee.

The chamber session was temporarily suspended.

ON THE CHIN

One leftist, dashing across the room in front of the government benches, struck the rightist Jean Louis Trépoignant with a right to the chin.

Trépoignant had shouted, when the Premier rose to speak: "Blum means war."

The rightist deputy Henri Becquart, carrying charges that Salengro was condemned to death as a deserter in the Great War to the floor of the chamber, was forced to shout at each other.

CALL A DESERTER

Salengro remained silent while rightist yelled:

"Salengro is a deserter." (A court of honor cleared Salengro October 30 of charges he betrayed his country during the Great War.)

Leftist counter-attacked with similar charges against the rightist deputy Philippe Henriot.

After several minutes of fighting the deputies were separated and the session was resumed a half hour later.

Meanwhile Defence Minister Edouard Daladier won a vote of confidence from the chamber army committee after refusing to consider Communist and Socialist proposals that the term of obligatory military service be reduced.

Two Destroyers To Replace Vancouver And Champlain

of their replacement the government has given careful consideration since taking office.

"Following negotiations carried on since that time, an arrangement has recently been concluded under which Canada will purchase from the British government two modern destroyers which were completed in 1931. When the necessary refittings have been carried out, the new ships, like the ones being replaced, will be manned by Canadian crews. It is expected they will be taken over in the early part of 1937."

TIME FACTOR

"Factors of time and economy have rendered this course preferable to the alternative of ordering new construction. The ships to be purchased are almost identical in size and equipment, with the Canadian destroyers Saguenay and Skeena, which also were completed in 1931 and which the Canadian naval staff consider to be efficient and suited to the needs of the service."

"Upon taking over the new ships Canada will have a homogeneous unit of torpedo craft of the most modern type."

It was anticipated, the Prime Minister said, the new destroyers would be given the names of those they will replace.

AT OTTAWA SESSION

Any further announcement with respect to defence policies, the Prime Minister said, would be made before Parliament by Defence Minister Ian Mackenzie. Date of Parliament's opening was not fixed at yesterday's Cabinet meeting, but it is still the intention of the government to assemble as early as may be possible in January.

"I am very glad to hear Canada has purchased two modern destroyers, and I am sure this action will be highly appreciated by the people of the Pacific Coast," said Premier Pattullo.

Work will begin next Monday on restoring the Vancouver, according to naval authorities.

FAST CRAFT

The new destroyers, the Cygnet and Crescent, each 1,400 tons, are of the thirty-five-knot class. They were built in 1931, and are almost identical with the Skeena. Their armament consists of four 4.7-inch guns and two quadruple torpedo tubes.

The Vancouver is a vessel of 1,075 tons, armed with three 4-inch guns and four torpedo tubes.

FOR TRAINING

The Skeena, stationed at Esquimalt with the Vancouver, is one of the fastest craft on the Pacific. She arrived at Esquimalt on August 7, 1931. The vessel is of 1,350 tons and modern in every respect.

Both vessels have been used in patrol work along the British Columbia coast and in maintaining training classes for naval reserve recruits. Each year they have had three months' training with the West Indies squadron in the Atlantic.

COMMISSION WITHDRAWS

The Maritime Commission withdrew from the strike picture after a hearing yesterday in which H. F. Canadian Press
Cranbrook, B.C., Nov. 13.—John F. Smith, ninety, one of the oldest residents in the East Kootenay district of British Columbia, died in the hospital here yesterday. His death was believed due to shock suffered when he narrowly escaped severe injuries in a blaze which destroyed his home earlier in the week.

Mr. Smith was born at Charlotteville, P.E.I., and graduated from Prince of Wales College. He taught in the Maritime Provinces, Tacoma, Wash., and Victoria, where he helped open the first Normal School.

In 1895 he was appointed government agent at Fort Steele in the Kootenays. He retired in 1916.

One of the original members of the first British Columbia militia unit, he held the rank of major.

MUNITIONS AT DEBATE STAGE

Baldwin Mentions Canada, But No British Orders to Dominion Firms Yet

Canadian Press
London, Nov. 13.—No arrangements have been reached with the Canadian Government, it was learned here today for supply of munitions to Great Britain.

Prime Minister Baldwin, in the course of a defence debate in the House of Commons yesterday evening, referred to the possibility of Canadian manufacturing resources being used to aid in British rearmament. It is thought his remarks may have given rise to a misunderstanding.

BUSINESS FIRMS

Replying to Mr. Hon. Clement Attlee, leader of the Labor opposition, Mr. Baldwin said he hoped very much that steps might soon be taken in Canada to secure co-operation in arms manufacture. Mr. Baldwin's reference, it is pointed out, was to possible arrangements with Canadian business firms rather than with the Dominion Government.

Ottawa, Nov. 13 (Canadian Press).—Any orders that may have been placed in Canada by the British Government for armament manufacture have not come to the official notice of the government, according to statements of the cabinet here.

Prime Minister King and Defence Minister Mackenzie read with interest the London report of Premier Stanley Baldwin's statement in the House of Commons on the use of Canadian armament manufacture facilities, but declined to comment.

It was stated, however, the government had no official knowledge of any orders placed with Canadian manufacturers by the British Government for munitions.

NO ADDED COMMENTS

On the report of Mr. Baldwin's reference to defence discussions with the Dominions, the Prime Minister had nothing to add to what he has already said on that subject.

For some time there have been numerous reports Canadian firms were receiving from Great Britain large orders for munitions and aircraft. Several such reports have been denied by manufacturers and yesterday the Canadian Vickers Company in Montreal publicly denied a report it had received a large order for planes from the British Air Ministry.

NO AIR SCHOOLS

On his return from London last week the Prime Minister denied knowledge of any arrangements being negotiated for Canadian manufacture of war materials for Great Britain, and also disclaimed any knowledge of proposals rumored here that the Royal Air Force would establish training schools in Canada.

On the matter of defence discussions the Prime Minister said he had conferred with the British ministry on the whole subject of defence, but not with any particular reference to Canadian or empire defence policies.

During his remarks in the British Commons yesterday evening, Premier Baldwin said: Empire relations were less simple today than in the old days of before the war.

"But I think it is fair," he declared, "to say that the Dominions throughout are anxious about the state of world politics and they have discussed with us their own difficulties. With regard to what the right honorable member said about utilizing the Dominions for manufacture, I hope very much that in Canada steps may be taken to bring that very desirable end to pass."

ITALY-RUSSIA BREAK FEARED

Diplomatic Severance Stated Possible After Verbal Tilt in London

Associated Press
London, Nov. 13.—The possibility of a rupture of diplomatic relations between Italy and Russia was the subject of comment in diplomatic circles today.

The dispute arose from Italian denunciation of Russian activity in the Spanish civil war and sarcastic retorts by the Moscow delegate to the International Non-Intervention Committee.

The exchange of heated language interrupted a session of the committee yesterday evening at which Russia was acquitted of three Italian charges of violation of the "hands-off-Spain" agreement.

Dino Grandi, Italian Ambassador to Great Britain, declared his nation's acceptance of what he called the Russian "challenge" to Sovietize Europe.

"Italy, in fact, is convinced that it is not only the future of Spain but the future of all civilized Europe that is at stake today," Grandi declared.

FAMILIAR TUNE

Sarcastically, Moiseyevitch Kagan, the Russian delegate, replied:

"It is a tune with which we are all familiar: that Soviet Communism is the enemy of the world and that a great crusade of all civilized countries should be organized to destroy this terrible spectre."

"So far, the success of these frantic appeals has not been very marked. Undoubtedly Italy hitherto has demonstrated her good sense by abstaining from any such stupid tactic."

Following the visit to the Lucia, the King inspected the Narwhal, Great Britain's newest submarine. He inspected the engines and other details. Then he visited the other submarine depot ship, the Titania, chatting with officers and men.

Vancouver Girl In Auto Is Hurt

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 13.—Miss Hilda Fox was seriously injured here today when an automobile in which she was riding with five other students of the University of British Columbia, collided with a vegetable truck on the Grandview Highway in a dense fog. She suffered a possible fracture of the skull.

Hospital attaches reported her condition serious.

Baby's Body In Postal Packet

Associated Press
San Francisco, Nov. 13.—Postal inspectors here said today a dead baby was discovered in a package opened at the dead letter office of the San Francisco postoffice.

The package was addressed to the "St. Merice Hospital, San Francisco," bore eighty-one cents postage.

There is no St. Merice Hospital in San Francisco.

FIGHTING IN NORTH CHINA

Japanese Airplanes Aid Mongols in Attack on Suiyuan Province

Associated Press
Kalgan, Chih Province, China, Nov. 13.—Fresh attacks against Suiyuan forces of Chahar soldiers and Mongolians were reported in North China today.

The invaders, assisted by Japanese airplanes, attacked over a wide front, the reports declared.

(Recent advances reaching Kalgan and Peiping told of thousands of Chahar provincial soldiers marching against Suiyuan Province in what was described as an attempt to spread Japanese influence westward from Manchukuo.)

Plane Squadrons Battle Over Madrid

SIX PLANES DESTROYED

Canadian Press
Madrid, Nov. 13.—Government war planes engaged over besieged Madrid today in a mass battle in which, it was officially announced, six Fascist raiders were shot down.

Thousands of Madrileños saw two planes crash, one within the city itself. The government announced both were insurgent ships and said four others had been forced from the air during a chase over insurgent lines which followed the spectacular "dog fight."

The prompt attack by nine government planes, defence leaders declared, prevented a planned bombardment of the city.

It also demonstrated the insurgents no longer can fly over Madrid unscathed.

Previously, the government's air base was so far from Madrid that attacking planes could get away from the city before government craft arrived.

Now, however, the government has established a temporary air base near Madrid, its whereabouts a carefully guarded secret.

HAVE SEVENTY PLANES

More than seventy pursuit planes, defence officials asserted, have been detailed to the protection of the capital. All are of modern construction, each armed with from two to four machine guns, and each manned by an experienced pilot.

Confidence of the defence junta mounted with today's victory and the pessimism which, a week ago, hung like a pall over the city, virtually had disappeared with the failure of the insurgents to cross the Manzanares River in eight days of continuous struggle.

In field fighting, the stage apparently was being set for another battle, possibly tonight, and defence generals issued warnings to the fighting forces against overconfidence.

Two Scottish ambulances, leaving tonight for Valencia loaded with British refugees, will return with additional food stocks for the British embassy.

At the same time a diplomatic corps commission which is seeking means of humanizing the civil conflict announced it was attempting to negotiate an understanding under which neither combatant would bombard zones of non-military importance.

The defence junta announced it would co-operate with the commission.

Meanwhile, it was learned, many tanks had been received by the government.

FOUGHT FOR TEN MINUTES

Today's battle over Madrid lasted ten minutes. It was the second aerial battle directly over the capital within a fortnight.

Twenty-one planes, twelve of them raiders from the Fascist lines, participated.

One of the victims, an insurgent two-engine, crashed in flames in the courtyard of the government barracks on Rocalles Street.

Three parachutes were seen blowing in the sky as the flames fell, but the wind carried them into the wooded Casa del Campo section west of the city.

Crowds gathered on rooftops to watch the conflict.

TROOPS ROUTED

The insurgent ships invaded the Madrid sky only a few hours after fifteen government planes, spitting lead from sixty machine guns, had routed Fascist troops along the Toledo highway south of the capital.

The battle opened with the trimotored ships, escorted by nine pursuit planes, appearing over the city and dropping leaflets demanding Madrid's surrender.

Suddenly, nine government planes dropped out of the clouds, dived on the tails of the invaders and opened a vicious barrage from mounted machine guns.

READY FOR LONG FIGHT

Gen. Jose Miaja, president of the emergency defence council in Madrid, was jubilant over what he termed "another demonstration of our ability in the air." Madrid, he said, was prepared to withstand years of siege.

Two government bombing planes, flying low because of heavy fog, last night crashed into a hillcock, six air-men being killed, a communiqué issued by the aviation ministry announced.

In the fight today the planes were so high that for a time the crowds in the streets could not distinguish between insurgent and government planes.

Suddenly one plane shot toward the earth in flames. Another went into a spin and crashed west of the city. A third wobbled, dipped and limped away to the east, and the whole battle shifted away from the city's rooftops.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

Later a government communiqué said: "Six planes, all belonging to the enemy, were brought down in the morning fight—two within sight; four behind their own lines."

Low flying ships which raked insurgent forces south of Madrid discovered Fascist columns near the two Carabanchel towns—Carabanchel Bajo and Carabanchel Alto—between Madrid and Getafe, the official report said.

(The government announced yesterday recapture of Getafe, site of a strategic air field eight miles south of the capital.)

Circling overhead, Socialist aerial gunners sprayed bullets into the insurgent forces, routing the columns in disorder, the ministry asserted.

Large numbers of the enemy were killed and wounded in the onslaught it claimed.

ARTILLERY DUEL

On the western side of the Manzanares River, insurgents and Socialists kept up a constant artillery and rifle fusillade around the Casa del Campo, heavily wooded former royal estate. Driving rain and heavy fog hampered the aim of both sides.

An Associated Press correspondent who dodged bullets in battle zones south of the capital, reported government forces launching heavy counter-attacks on the Fascists' right flank.

Military officials inside the capital expressed belief sufficient reinforcements had arrived from the south-eastern coast to defend the city against projected insurgent attacks.

INTERNATIONAL VOLUNTEERS

Fresh forces were expected from Catalonia (Barcelona) and Valencia to bolster the government defenders, who already have the support of strong contingents of international volunteers composed of Poles, Italians, French and Russians.

(The Soviet freighter Komosol arrived at Valencia and unloaded 22,000 children's garments, 2,500 tons of wheat, 1,000 tons of flour, 48 tons of codfish and other supplies.)

Residents of the beleaguered city went unharmed by the latest Fascist raid on government lines by nine insurgent planes.

(Gen. Francisco Franco, commander of the Fascist forces storming Madrid had ordered temporary cessation of aerial attacks on the city proper, declared Gen. Gonzalo Queipo de Llano in his daily broadcast over a Seville radio station. Similar orders had been given regarding the historic city of El Escorial, northwest of Madrid, the Fascist radio commentator said.)

McGeer Is Not Mayor Candidate

Will Not Stand For Re-election; to Devote Time to Duties as M.P.

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 13.—Mayor G. G.
McGeer, M.P., yesterday announced he would not seek re-election as Vancouver's chief magistrate.

Speaking at a meeting of the advertising and sales bureau of the Board of Trade, Mayor McGeer said his work in Ottawa "will be a full-time job if Vancouver is to be properly represented."

He asked business men of the city to fulfill their responsibility to civic government "in the same way as business men do in the Old Country."

Ex-Mayor L. D. Taylor and C. E.
Thompson, former campaign manager for Mayor McGeer, have already filed papers for the mayoralty. Ald.
G. C. Miller, acting mayor while Mayor McGeer was in England, is expected to file shortly.

A record vote is expected at the civic elections December 9, the voters' list this year reaching an all-time high of 81,191 property owners and tenants.

Indians Are Asking Kitsilano Pledge

Vancouver, Nov. 13.—Indians of British Columbia's lower mainland Squamish tribe have taken action to ensure that any use of the Kitsilano Indian Reserve by Vancouver city or the park board will not endanger Indian ownership of the land, it was learned yesterday.

The Squamish tribal council has sent to the Department of Indian Affairs at Ottawa a formal resolution asking that no conveyance or transaction respecting the reserve be signed before the tribe is consulted.

Monetary Rules In U.S. to Be Extended

Washington, Nov. 13.—Treasury officials hinted yesterday that the administration will ask the United States Congress to continue indefinitely its present far-reaching monetary powers.

A bill will be offered in the first few days of the session, one high authority said, extending the government's authority to maintain the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund and the president's special powers to vary the gold content of the United States dollar. Both are scheduled to expire
January 30 under present law.

Plan Site For War Memorial

Government Hopes Big Arch
Will Be Set Up in Ottawa
Next Year

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Nov. 13.—Unless construction obstacles make it impossible, it is the intention of the Dominion Government to have Canada's Great War Memorial set up in the Dominion capital in time for next year's celebration of the Armistice, Prime Minister King said yesterday evening.

Engineering and other difficulties may prevent the achievement of this objective, but the government has felt it would be fitting if the war memorial, now in London, could be placed in position during the Cora-nation year. The site proposed is on Connaught Place and involves removal of the present Ottawa post office building.

Canada's war memorial has been practically completed for some years, but removal from London, where it was sculptured, has awaited preparation of the site in Ottawa. The memorial, executed by the March family of Parnborough, England, after an open competition for the design, includes a huge archway through which are passing figures symbolic of Canada's outpouring in men, women and material to assist the empire in the Great War.

Community Health Insurance Scheme

Canadian Press
Arundel, Que., Nov. 13.—Believed to be eastern Canada's first community health insurance system, the Arundel League for Health Insurance and Medical Care was inaugurated yesterday evening in this town fifty-five miles northwest of Montreal. Dr.
Grant Fleming, dean of the faculty of medicine at McGill University, spoke to members of the league, who are guaranteed full individual service of a physician for $5 a year. Family membership is $15.

World Economic Conference Plan

Canadian Press
Geneva, Nov. 13.—Proposals for a world economic conference to be held under the auspices of the League of Nations were approved here yesterday evening by the administrative council of the International Labor Office. The council also decided to place the question of child labor on the agenda for next year's annual conference.

Book Says Italy Was Aggressor

Marshal de Bono's Memoirs, Published in Rome Today, Says He and Duce Agreed Italians Must Attack Ethiopia

Associated Press
Rome, Nov. 13.—Memoirs of Marshal Emilio de Bono, Italian commander at the start of the Ethiopian war, showed Italy today as the aggressor in East Africa.

Companion books by De Bono and Marshal Pietro Badoglio, who succeeded him during the latter stage of the war, were published simultaneously today. Both contain prefaces by Premier Mussolini.

De Bono shows that he and Duce agreed on the war in the beginning of 1935 and immediately began their preparations.

His book gives the telegram he sent to Mussolini saying Emperor Haile Selassie would not attack and that the war must be begun by the Italians.

It shows the Italo-Ethiopian war was one of conquest.

Foreign diplomats and correspondents, as well as many Italians, wondered the De Bono book was permitted to appear with these revelations.
Political circles said, however, it was Mussolini's desire that the world know the conquest of Ethiopia was a Fascist idea and did not originate with the regular army.

BEYOND HUMAN LIMITATIONS
In his preface to Badoglio's book, Duce wrote:

"The war which was fought from October 3 to May 5 can rightfully be called Fascist, because it was conducted and won with the temperament of Fascism: rapidity, decisivness, spirit of sacrifice, courage and resistance surpassing human limitations."

De Bono's book shows the general staff could not claim the war was its victory because Mussolini took the officers into his confidence only after the preliminary plans were made.

Marshal Badoglio, chief of the general staff, commanded the army in its final victory, but declared he was proceeding on the strategy laid down by Mussolini and De Bono.

PEACE RALLY DRAWS YOUTH

Presided over by Dean Cecil S.
Quinton, young people representing various youth organizations in the city gathered in the Chamber of Commerce yesterday evening to present their views on peace.

The meeting called as a contribution to Peace Action Week heard a number of short addresses from delegates, community singing and a review of the World Youth Congress, Geneva, and the Canadian Youth Congress, Ottawa, by Ralph Dent, Victoria's delegate at both these congresses.

Mr. Dent also announced that a meeting would be called at the Y.M.C.A. on Thursday evening, November 26, to organize a Victoria Youth Council which would act as a co-ordinating body for all youth movements in the city. Thirty-five such councils had been formed in Canada since the Ottawa youth conference.

Miss Wilkens Graham, representing the Victoria branch of the Y.W.C.A., defined peace as a perfect understanding between individuals and nations. She believed that it could only be brought about by the elimination of all hatred, selfishness and jealousy.

John Smith, delegate of the New Canada Club, saw the war machine being built again. The people, he found, were still silent and apathetic in the face of impending disaster.

Hing Hop, representing Chinese Youth in Victoria, said that a true desire and understanding of peace could only be obtained through education.

George Little of the Young People's League, declared for armed peace. He said that if Canada could not defend herself she had no moral right to call herself an independent nation.

Struan Robertson, Victoria College, warned the people against delusions.
He said since the close of the war,
the nations had dug themselves deeper into the mire of international entanglements.

At the conclusion of the addresses the Dean found that opinions were so varied and in some cases so opposite that the formation of any definite lead to world peace seemed almost impossible. However, he commended the speakers on their sincerity.

Saanich Service Of Remembrance

An Armistice Day service for the Saanich community was held in Wilkinson Road United Church on Wednesday when Rev. F. Comley of St.
Alban's Church, gave the address.
The speaker emphasized the fact that the government declarations regarding peace and national goodwill were valid only in so far as the people of Canada themselves practiced the principles of peace in their own home and community life. The combined choirs of Wilkinson Road and Garden City churches rendered Stainer's Recessional. The offering was devoted to the fund organized by Dr. David Berman and the Royal Oak Women's Institute for dental and ophthalmic treatment of indigents and their children in the municipality.

Uncertain Future For Straw Vote

Literary Digest, Debating
Its Nov. 3 Error in U.S., Not Yet Making Plans For 1940

New York, Nov. 13.—The Literary Digest, whose sixteen-year record for accurate forecasting of United States election results was wrecked in the Roosevelt landslide of November 3, answers questioners of its straw vote methods in an article published today with another question:

"So what?" the Digest answers, "although we did everything we knew to assure ourselves of being right."

As to whether it will change its methods in future election years, the Digest says "we'll cross that bridge when we come to it."

As an answer to the question of whether it will conduct another poll,
the article says:
"Should the Democratic Party have quit in 1934 when it reached a modern low ebb...? Should the Republican Party have quit in 1913
when it carried only two states?"

After pointing out four previous Digest polls "were right," the article declares it is still trying to find out why it indicated a Landon victory in the face of the Roosevelt landslide.

GROUPS DENY FUNDS REPORT

British Fascists and Communists Say No Foreign Funds Received

Canadian Press from Havas
London, Nov. 13.—The government had received information indicating British Communists and Fascists had their funds supplemented from abroad, the House of Commons was told yesterday.

Asked by James Griffiths, Labor, if he could disclose the amount of money allegedly received from abroad by the British Union of Fascists, Sir John Simon, Home Secretary, replied:

"I cannot make a detailed statement, but information has reached me which goes to show that in both the case of the Fascists and the Communist organizations their funds have been supplemented from abroad."

Later Sir Oswald Mosley, head of the British Union of Fascists, in a statement demanded Sir John produce evidence to support his assertion,
and denied the allegation.
"It is utterly untrue that the British Union of Fascists receives money from foreign sources," Sir Oswald said.

Communist headquarters likewise sought to refute Sir John's statement and replied that "if Sir John has knowledge of such a thing he would have used it before now. We have no knowledge of such a thing."

FLAG REQUEST BY VANCOUVER

City Council Informs Ottawa Its View Is Canada Should Adopt Design

Vancouver, Nov. 13.—The Vancouver City Council is on record as favoring an official Canadian flag, and has forwarded a letter making known its decision to Ottawa.

The incident arose when Rev. A.
Lombardini, rector of St. Lawrence Jewry-near-Guildhall, official church of the Lord Mayor of London, asked for a Canadian flag for his church in a letter to the Vancouver council.
A Canadian ensign, used on ships out of Dominion ports, will be sent as a temporary substitute.

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Nov. 13.—Hon. C. G.
Power, Minister of Pensions and National Health, is much improved after his recent attack of pneumonia. He is now convalescing, but will remain in hospital for another two weeks and in order to hasten complete recovery doctors have told him not to receive visitors.

HIGH SPEED

Shutterless Apparatus Finds Faults in Machines; Takes 3,000 Pictures a Second

Associated Press
Baltimore, Nov. 13.—New industrial motion pictures so fast that speeds of six miles a minute can be slowed to three miles an hour were shown at the annual meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers yesterday.

The ultra-fast movies, taken at the rate of from 2,000 to 3,000 pictures per second, were demonstrated by Dr.
Gustavus J. Esselen of Boston, Mass., as a tool for studying industrial processes and checking the cause of failure of products.

Using an intense light, which is switched on and off 8,000 times per second instead of the mechanical shutter used in most cameras, the new photography already has brought about a new design in electric fans and promises to replace the present kitchen egg-beater with a wheel resembling a motorboat propeller.

Hibernians in Seattle Pro-

Associated Press
Seattle, Nov. 13.—The Ancient Order of Hibernians here yesterday demanded deportation of three Spanish loyalist government speakers who addressed University of Washington students in the first of a nationwide series of addresses explaining their "cause."

The resolution, sent to United States Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, asserted that Isabel de Palencia, Spanish Minister to Sweden, Marcelino Domingo, president of the Left Republican Party, and Rev. Luis Sarasa, historian and theologian, are members of a party which receives support from the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics, "whose principles are subversive of American conceptions of democracy."

The Spanish party arrived this week after a tour of Canada during which they addressed audiences in Victoria and Vancouver.

Man Offers To Sell Himself

Associated Press
Boston, Nov. 13.—A father of three children, unemployed, burdened with debt and facing eviction yesterday offered to sell himself for $2,500 to remedy his plight, according to The Boston Globe.

The man, a Jacksonville, Fla., resident, whose name was withheld, was quoted by the newspaper as saying:
"If some doctor or group of doctors would let me borrow enough to pay my bills and set me on my feet,
I would give myself as security."

"If I should fail to pay it back at a time decided, they could have me to experiment on in any way they wished. They might discover something worth many times the sum they let me have."

The Globe said the man claimed he owed four months' rent and was threatened with eviction December 1.

BRITISH-U.S.
TRADE TREATY

Associated Press
London, Nov. 13.—Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain told the House of Commons yesterday official consideration of a British-United States trade treaty was "one of the main objects of His Majesty's government."

It was the government's policy, he said, to "promote the exchange of goods between Great Britain and other countries by means of bilateral pacts."

"In regard to the general question of a freer exchange of goods throughout the world," he added, "the government will continue to keep in touch with the governments of the United States, France and other nations."

Authoritative sources said that while general discussions were continuing, there was little likelihood of an immediate agreement.

Japanese Issue

Associated Press
Tokyo, Nov. 13.—The Japanese press diplomatic matter" referred to the Privy Council.

There were, however, no reliable clues as to its nature or even its existence.

yesterday evening after a final count of ballot. The final figures were 133

A Great Project

YESTERDAY WAS A MEMORABLE day in the lives of San Franciscans and Oaklanders. It marked the opening of the upper deck of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge to vehicular traffic. It is hailed as the beginning of a long period of increased activity, especially in retail trade, real estate, industry, building construction, transportation and allied fields.

Breaking, for the first time, the comparative isolation of San Francisco proper with its water boundaries on three sides, the new bridge, in effect, connects into one city of 2,000,000 persons a nine-county area including Oakland (third largest city in California), Alameda, Berkeley, Richmond and Piedmont. This metropolitan area will be further unified by the Golden Gate Bridge scheduled for completion in 1937, linking San Francisco with the counties of Marin and Sonoma and the Redwood empire country to the north.

The San Francisco-Oakland Bridge has broken a lot of records. It is the greatest bridge in the world for its cost, $77,600,000; length, eight and a half miles; quantities of concrete, 1,000,000 cubic yards, and steel, 200,000 tons, its 1,400-cubic foot double deck and 25-400,000-pound cantilever span, and its 52x65-foot bore tunnel through Yerba Buena Island in the middle of the bay. Engineers say that, with its completion, the largest navigable body of water justifying so costly a structure has finally been spanned. They quote this in support of the fascinating theory that it will remain the "world's greatest bridge" for a thousand years.

The span was built by the California Toll Bridge Authority, a state body, and tolls will be impounded for bond redemption for an estimated period of twenty years. The Toll Bridge Authority sold $56,000,000 of bonds to The Reconstruction Finance Corporation to build the bridge proper. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has obligated itself to buy $15,000,000 more to finance construction of the rapid-transit facilities on the lower deck. California lent $6,600,000 from the northern California gasoline tax allotment to build the bridge approaches.

Victoria has had a long and intimate association with San Francisco and the people of this city—especially those who belong to the latter part of the Victorian era—will extend their felicitations to the people around the Golden Gate on this magnificent undertaking.

"So What?"

OUT OF NEW YORK TODAY came, what, for the want of a better term, an explanation from The Literary Digest about its latest "straw vote" forecasting the result of the recent United States presidential election—a forecast so woefully wide of the mark that a good deal of newspaper speculation has been indulged in over what went wrong.

To the question, "So What?" The Digest supplies this answer: "So we were wrong, although we did everything we knew to assure ourselves of being right." An uncanny record for accuracy has come to an end and The Digest does not know whether it will conduct another "straw vote." It says, of its future policy, "We'll cross that bridge when we come to it." This is what The New York Times had to say on this and related matters the other day:

"Among the rewards or consolations of this presidential election, most citizens will have made up a 'little list' of political nuisances of which they have now got rid. One of these is The Literary Digest poll. It will scarcely venture to show its face again in the Congressional elections of 1938 or the presidential campaign four years from now. That it was so thoroughly discredited this year is not because it was dishonest or unfair in its motives or methods. It certainly will never be again the bogey or oracle as which it had so long figured in our elections. The result on Tuesday has made it and most other polls of the kind only straws which the wind driveth away. American voters can well get along without its guidance or misguidance in the future.

"There are other political blessings which brighten as they take their flight. Some of these have to do with personalities. The good Dr. Townsend can no longer carry in his vest pocket millions of votes to be delivered to the candidate or party that favors his once famous pension plan. As for Father Coughlin, it will not now be necessary for his ecclesiastical superiors to quench his political ardors or subdue his boasts. Time and the event have seen to that. His vehement and reckless speeches have been drowned out in the cataract of votes that engulfed him and all his kind.

"If The Digest poll had maintained its old reputation, it would have been in a fair way to make actual elections unnecessary. Should it never appear again it will not be missed. Doubtless the future will bring forth nostrum peddlers and agitators like those that have been mentioned above, but it is something to have seen the end of these particular disturbers of the political peace. The new ones will at least have to come with an air of novelty, without trying to imitate or reproduce the methods of which the country has grown so visibly weary."

Dominion Finances

THE FINANCES OF THE DOMINION during recent months have shown a material improvement. Ordinary revenues during September amounted to $32,113,000 as compared with $25,998,000 during September, 1935. This improvement was due primarily to an increase of $3,000,000 from excise taxes and $2,000,000 from sundry departments. Ordinary expenditures during September were only slightly higher than during September last year, amounting to $26,279,436 as compared with $26,093,048.

For the first six months of the present fiscal year ended September 30, total ordinary revenues aggregated $233,360,000 as compared with $198,869,000 during the same period a year ago, an increase of $34,491,000. Ordinary expenditures, on the other hand, increased from $165,954,000 during the first six months ended September 30, 1935, to $169,547,000 during the first half of the present fiscal year, an increase of $3,593,000. Relief expenditures, as well as the deficit of the Canadian National Railways, were somewhat smaller during the first half of the present year than during the same period a year ago. The finances of the Dominion Government during the first half of the present year compared with the same period a year ago may be seen from the following table.

	April 1 to Sept. 30, 1935	Sept. 30, 1935 to April 1, 1936
Receipts
Customs import duty	$39,152,907	$36,740,968
Excise duty	23,612,554	23,126,906
Excise taxes, sales, stamps, etc.	65,557,509	54,022,620
Income tax	79,575,217	63,717,618
Gold tax		1,407,124
Post Office Dept.	14,841,373	14,278,900
Sundry departments	10,620,567	8,580,511
Total ordinary revenue	$233,360,128	$198,869,644
Special receipts	479,709	221,508
Total receipts	$233,839,837	$199,091,152
Disbursements
Total ordinary expenditure	169,546,698	$165,954,403
Special expenditure
Relief projects, grants	28,230,171	29,701,577
Can. Nat. Ry's. deficit	28,500,000	31,500,000
Sundry charges to Cons. Fund	189,265	94,069
Total special expenditure	$56,919,436	$61,295,666
Total capital expenditure	$2,712,101	$4,440,894
Total loans and advcs.	$2,448,264	$6,894,973
Grand total	$281,626,502	$296,585,929

Of the total expenditures, interest on the public debt was the largest item, amounting to $60,936,000 in the first six months as compared with $60,137,000 during the same period a year ago. Pensions and National Health constituted the second largest item on the expenditures side and also showed a slight increase during the first half of the present fiscal year totaling $27,309,000 as compared with $26,922,000 a year ago.

The decline in the relief expenditures and grants, although small, is a hopeful sign. It indicates that as business conditions continue to improve, the demands on the Dominion for relief will decline materially, thereby substantially aiding the fiscal affairs of the government. The decline in the deficit of the Canadian National Railways by $3,000,000 is also construed as a wholesome development. Partly, it is ascribed to economies made by the railroad, and partly to the revival in business activity. Loans and advances made by the Dominion Government during the first half of the present year amounted to $52,448,000 as compared with $66,895,000 during the same period a year ago. Of this total, $32,000,000 went to the Canadian National Railways and $5,659,000 to the railways for re-equipment and special work.

Omitting the loans and advances made by the Dominion Government during the first half of the present year, total revenues exceed expenditures by $4,661,600 whereas during the same period a year ago total revenues were $32,599,808 less than total expenditures. This in itself indicates that the finances of the Dominion have shown a substantial improvement and the end of the fiscal year 1937 should show a marked excess of revenues over expenditures.

"For Thy Stomach's Sake"

WHEN ARRANGEMENTS WERE made for a recent meeting between employers and employees in Paris, Premier Blum and one or two other bright minds thought of a way to meet any tension that might develop between the participating parties as the negotiations proceeded.

They provided a luxurious buffet. When the pourparlers reached a deadlock the employers were sent in first of all to tackle the wine and sandwiches. The employees went in next. But we are told that some of the employers were still hungry and stayed for a second helping. Health was drunk and all differences settled.

As one of the leaders is reported to have said afterward, "A few more picnics and we should have no more labor problems." This recipe from France might well be copied by leaders of Capital and Labor elsewhere.

Notes

"The earth's inhabitants are growing into a race of giants." Some already have a head start, notably those who usually sit in front of us at shows.

Happiness, rather than a mental realm into which one may suddenly pass, is a rope of matched pearls, gems gathered from day to day, finally possessed by him who strings and cherishes them.

The birth rate in Canada and United States continues to decline, according to life insurance statistics. Canada can better afford the decline as her birth rate in 1935 was 20.2 per thousand of population, while that of the United States was down to 16.8 per thousand, nearly reaching the all-time low of 16.6 recorded in 1923.

Across the Bay

The House endures a feat of endurance—five hours of speech—nine speakers—and a vast amount of useful information—in a long, hard day.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

TALK

HAVING NO LARGE VOLUME of important business before it, the Legislature talked on Thursday. It talked for five hours without a break, except for lunch. It talked so long that the budget debate appears still far from its end and whips are beginning to despair of getting it home, as scheduled, at the end of next week, a possibility which is causing natural alarm.

Nine speakers hammered away at the economic system, the budget, the P.E.R., the state of civilization and the niggardly size of glasses in beer parlors. Many were good speeches, full of meat, but none of them the sort of stuff to thrill the listener or to be remembered in history—a simple cross-section of British Columbia's many-sided life revealed in a matter-of-fact fashion from the back benches. Such a day, so crowded with so many different ideas, from Socialism to the growth of rhabarbar at Hatzie, takes a lot out of you, perhaps more than it puts in, yet it is one of those things you must get over before you can get down to business, if any.

Young Dr. Harris of South Okanagan opened the day with his customary sound lecture on practical chemistry. This sounds rather academic for this House, but the young scientist who is one of the few men in the world ever to discover a new element is, in fact, extremely practical, for chemistry, he says, is changing the whole complexion of industry. If we don't wake up in Canada and learn how to develop new industrial processes we shall find our industries ruined by the competition of new products, weirdly made of all sorts of things—paper from southern pine trees, boards from cornstalks, planes from soy beans. Dr. Harris keeps hammering away on this year after year, but nothing seems to happen.

MODERATION

YOU COULD FEEL the changing political and economic currents of the times in the speech of Mrs. Steeves, a lady who has elected to stay with the radical policy of the C.C.F., along with the two Winches, but who seems to belong spiritually with the Connell group. When Mrs. Steeves first entered the House, she, along with other Socialists, was talking about Socialism as if it were an innocent thing, as if the C.C.F. might be called on shortly to implement a Socialist state in British Columbia.

Now that the economic strains have eased everywhere by better times, and the forces of the left split in divers parts, Mrs. Steeves wisely talks of less spectacular victories, of gradual transition into Socialism, of a modified capitalism. She talks of reforms like co-operative organizations, which are not Socialism in reality but appendages to capitalism, designed to make things a little easier until that longed-for day when capitalism collapses and a new system can be erected on its ruins. Mrs. Steeves talks about this transition stage as she talks about everything, persuasively, eloquently and charmingly, with never a word about the split in her party.

PATRONAGE

IT IS ALL RIGHT to talk about the evils of government patronage, said Arnold Hanna, but in reality it is practiced against Liberal members in the House, for apparently he has been trying to get a chance to speak for weeks without success while the Liberal whips give all the good time to the Opposition—an Opposition which is in chaos, infinitely divided and incapable of running itself, let alone the country. Pitying his foes, Mr. Hanna invited Mr. Connell, if he is so anxious for co-operation, to co-operate with the government, come in the Liberal ranks and improve the Liberal Party. Mr. Connell at the moment was walking out of the chamber and did not pause to accept the invitation.

The extraordinary applause which greeted the annual appearance of Mr. Putnam, of Nelson-Creston, showed in what regard he is held by everyone. His speech, that of a practical farmer and mining man, was close to the earth and full of sound talk about the people who inhabit the interior, their problems and their hopes.

DEMOCRACY

MAJOR MCKAY of Cariboo is one of those old-fashioned Liberals who is concerned about the survival of the democratic system. In a thoughtful speech, perhaps in a strain higher than that to which our practical politics is accustomed, he declared that democratic methods must be changed to meet modern conditions, parliamentary processes must be made to reflect the public will more efficiently, and men must be given the chance to work, or democracy is going under altogether.

In a House which has been congratulating itself several times a day that the depression is over and everything just fine, Major McKay did not hesitate to say bluntly that everything isn't just fine and is going to get much worse. We are going, said he, into another depression after a while, and we are making no preparations to meet it and doing nothing to prevent it. With this warning, he told the House about Cariboo, its needs and the difficulties of its pioneer people.

Mr. Strachan of Dewdney prefers to stick close to the land, to such questions as Oriental penetration, and especially to the growth of rhabarbar in his own Fraser Valley. For the man on the land, Mr. Strachan makes an earnest plea, and he says that down on the farm, after this year's floods, things are pretty bad. What is going to happen if Orientals continue their penetration into agriculture, Mr. Strachan doesn't know.

BEER GLASSES

ONE OF THE THINGS which has been worrying Mr. Savage ever since he came into this House is the size of the B.C. beer glass. For three years he has demanded that the government do something about it, to protect the beer drinker from exploitation, but nothing is done. Now Mr. Savage challenges Mr. Pattullo or Mr. Sloan or any cabinet minister to debate with him the question of the beer glass and the allegedly huge profits of the brewers and the beer parlor operators, and to deny any of his statements thereon. No one answers Mr. Savage's challenge and apparently nothing is ever to be done about the glasses or their contents.

No one has anything to say either about Mr. Savage's statement that the budget is not balanced, that we are a bankrupt province and that our bonds are selling very low in the markets or the world. But the Premier and Mr. Hart do not look disturbed.

Letters to The Editor

PRIZE ESSAY DATE EXTENDED

To the Editor:—The date limit for submission of essays reviewing Lord Lothian's treatise, "Patriotism is Not Enough" (Oxford University Press), will be March 2, 1937, instead of January 1, as previously announced. The donor, Mr. H. H. Wilcox, has kindly offered to increase the first prize of a maximum of $100 for an essay judged to be of sufficient constructive value.

Copies of the lecture are obtainable at Spencer's book department, and the League of Nations Society's office, 1006 Government Street, Victoria, and local bookstores are being requested to have copies in hand.

H. G. WYATT.

WOULD BE BLUNDER

To the Editor:—Let me take Mr. Twigg back to pioneer days.

What, in the first instance, built up Victoria? First, the Fraser River gold days; next, the Cariboo. While today they are not booming, I think the merchants of Victoria would be sorry to lose their trade today, and I would point out to him the tendency of today is to amalgamate. Business and even our civil governments are striving for that. Thinking men of Victoria would like to extend the city boundaries to include adjoining municipalities to cut down overhead expense. Mr. Twigg would increase the overhead by creating two sets of provincial officers. Where today you have only one Lieutenant-Governor, for that matter, he would make it two. You would have two sets of cabinet ministers, two legislatures, and you would not welcome to Victoria members from the mainland.

According to his policy, why not go further—do away with Confederation and still further, do away with the British Empire. Let's become a little community all by ourselves on this fair island home of ours. Would our island revenues increase or decrease if we were alone. The old proverb says: "Man cannot live for self alone," nor can communities. If it were not for that barrier built by nature, the Rocky Mountains, I would unite the northwest with British Columbia.

Again, another proverb says: "In unity there's strength." Mr. Twigg would roll us back 100 years in the world progress. But, in the words of Tennyson:

"Forward, forward let us range,
Let the great world spin forever
Down the ringing grooves of change."
Oh, it would be a blunder if we were to listen to Mr. Twigg and then throw away the work of our pioneers who built up this fair province of ours.

JOHN N. EVANS.

Duncan, B.C.

IN A FLASK

From The Moncton Transcript
For the benefit of novices, Chicago is developing thirty acres of lake front ground with the expectation of including nearly every hazard known to motorists. While some argue that thirty acres could not possibly include most of them, yet it is known that many of the risks can be stored away compactly in a flask.

IN GOTHAM

From A New York Correspondent
Greenwich Village on the slides? It would seem so; the Bohemians are fading in prestige. The sign I saw on the Village cafe window read, "No Poets Wanted."

New York is probably the only metropolis with one-way streets for pedestrians as well as autoists. . . . Each day at noontime in the Garment Centre, a traffic cop directs pedestrian traffic in northbound and southbound directions.

AN UNSATISFACTORY CASE

From The Nanaimo Herald
The law has spoken and decreed that the two Indian brothers, Richardson and Eneas George, be hanged.

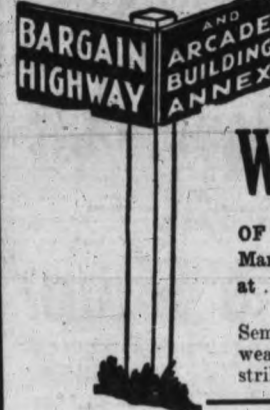

But even the case itself, apart from the fact that the two condemned men are Indians, has certain mitigating circumstances. It may be admitted that not even poor police work is an excuse for murder. At the same time there is no evidence that the murder was premeditated. The policemen went to an Indian reservation at midnight, and what happened in the darkness could only be learned from other Indians. Tried

ISLAND UNITY

From The Ladysmith Chronicle
It is of vital interest to us as islanders, that tourist interest should be increasingly stimulated and maintained. This is only faintly possible while the recognized tourist neighborhoods are busily engaged discussing parochial trivialities about the ears that did not pass a certain way.

If a carping and critically selfish spirit animates the smaller centres in their view of treatment by the cities, it is a fair presumption that the same distorted vision of the general welfare will prevail in the larger centres. In an area where the total population affected by tourist trade is less than 70,000 in 15,000 square miles, it would seem the publicity organizations concerned with the matter should orient their outlook.

It is quite possible that the tourist trade will be Vancouver Island's principal asset within twenty years, if there can be developed in the near future a unified island consciousness and line of action. The idea that visitors should be induced, guarded, exploited and trapped within the limits of a particular parish, and jealously diverted from neighboring points is primitive economics. It is, of course, the early and passing phase in tourist trade development, but there is no reason why it should be prolonged and aggravated in monthly public discussions.

PRAIRIE TOWNS' POPULATION

From The Financial Post
Preliminary returns of the 1936 census of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta reveal that population of towns and villages in the three prairie provinces at June 1 was lower than that of 1931 in no fewer than sixty-three towns and villages. Only thirty-one showed increases over the 1931 totals and two remained stationary.

CONCERTED GOSSIP

From A New York Correspondent
Some of the glamour of the music and lecture world is to be gleaned from Ethel Peyser's personal history of the famous Carnegie Hall. Miss Peyser, who has been long familiar with the venerable auditorium, has seen the great ones backstage. So she is able to report that when the boy prodigy, Yehudi Menuhin, finishes an arduous and brilliant concert, all he wants, in the face of deafening applause, is some ice cream. . . . that the great pianist, Josef Hoffman, has a habit of arriving at the concert at the last minute, just time enough to yell "Hello!" and rush onstage. . . . that Frieda Hempel invariably checks a chinchilla coat with the stagehands before she starts singing. . . . and that the most unassuming, unfetted person to enter Carnegie Hall's backstage portals was Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo, who had come to deliver a lecture.

SAYS YUKON HAD NO CRIME

"In 1898 there were 20,000 men in Dawson City. Every one of them had at least one gun. Many of them were murderers, a lot of them thieves—and yet there was no crime," declared Rev. C. C. Raven, who became a parson after thirty-seven years in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, in a talk before the Victoria Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon in the Empress Hotel yesterday.

"You hear a lot of nonsense about the R.C.M.P. getting their man," Mr. Raven said. "The real duty of the force is prevention of crime and we certainly were successful in the Yukon."

The speaker told of the arduous journey to Dawson City. Among the supplies he had to buy before getting on the boat for Skagway was one and a half tons of dog biscuits.

ON THE NARROW TRAIL

Mr. Raven described the terrible time they had on that narrow trail where thousands of men and horses were fighting their way to Lake Bennett and the head of the Yukon River. The traffic on the trail was confusion as horses and men were coming from both directions where they could only go in one direction. They had to keep on taking the packs off the horses—in order that they could rest and they had to continually rescue or kill horses that had fallen over the cliff.

At Lake Bennett they built crude boats out of sawn logs and with twenty-six men in four of these they started down the Yukon. Almost immediately they ran into a storm in which it took them three hours to cover 500 yards.

In Miles Canyon, Mr. Raven remembered the swirling waters whipping the boats around and sending them stern first through the narrow gorge at an express speed.

When they arrived in Dawson City there was a shortage of provisions. Flour, if it could be got, was $200 for fifty pounds. Beef sold at $1.25 a pound.

Col. C. Junget introduced the speaker. Frank Doherty was in the chair.

Before the main speaker, William Mainwaring, Vancouver Rotarian, reminded members of the club of the presentation of the charter to the new Rotary Club at Courtenay on Friday, November 27.

The Boy Scouts for workshop this year will be at Scout Headquarters, 1234 Johnson Street. This decision was made Tuesday by the committee in charge, owing to the inability to secure a suitable downtown site for repairing toys for the needy for Christmas. The canvases for toys and clothing opened Monday and those wishing to make donations may do so by phoning G6994, G3298 or G4332. A party will visit the headquarters this evening for the purpose of fixing it up as a workshop.

OWNS HARBIN SUGAR PLANT

Zew Zikman, Polish Manufacturer, Here Awaiting Sailing of Empress Liner

Zew Zikman, of Polish extraction, engaged in the manufacture of beet sugar at Harbin, Manchukuo, is at the Empress Hotel with his wife, awaiting the sailing of the liner Empress of Japan on Saturday for the Orient.

Mr. Zikman, who is president of the North Manchuria Sugar Industrial Company, of Harbin, is a Rotarian, and was introduced at the Rotary Club luncheon here today.

Japanese interests control 52 per cent of the capital of the Manchuria Sugar Industrial Company, and Mr. Zikman 48 per cent.

The annual output of sugar by the Harbin plant, he explained, was 7,000 tons, representing but 15 per cent of the consumption. The other 85 per cent is imported from Java. The market is chiefly in China.

It is proposed to extend the Harbin plant to cope with the increasing business, Mr. Zikman said.

CHEAP WINTER RATES QUOTED

Robert Creelman of C.N.R., Says Travel Westward Will Be Encouraged

Travel to the Pacific coast from eastern and prairie points will be boosted this winter by the cheap excursion rates which the Canadian lines will put into effect on December 1, stated Robert Creelman, passenger traffic manager, Canadian National Railways, Winnipeg, on his arrival in Victoria today.

Mr. Creelman is making his winter inspection trip to the coast, and is registered at the Empress Hotel with George McNicholl, C.N.R. general passenger agent, Vancouver.

"The attractive low passenger fares which are being quoted by the railways next month will doubtless bring a lot of people to the coast, and the movement should continue until February," said Mr. Creelman.

Cheap rates are also being quoted eastward for the trans-Atlantic Christmas trade, he stated. These will be effective November 15.

"Y" TO SPONSOR ECONOMIC CLASS

Open to men and women will be a course in economics of twelve lectures to be given under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. in co-operation with the extension department of the University of British Columbia, beginning on November 28.

The first address will be delivered by Dr. H. M. Cassidy, who will speak on "Problems of Unemployment." Chairman of the evening will be J. B. Clearhues, M.A.

Those wishing to take the course are asked to get in touch with the Y.M.C.A. as soon as possible as the number of registrants will be limited. A small charge will be made to defray expenses.

Other speakers who will be heard during the course of the lectures are Professor W. A. Carrothers, Ph.D.; J. Fisher, Ph.D.; J. B. Clearhues, M.A.; B.C.L.; Professor G. F. Drummond, M.A.; M.Sc.; Professor F. M. Soward, B.A.; B.Litt.; A. Peabody, M.A.; Professor R. England, M.A.; Professor H. F. Angus, M.A., B.C.L.

In conjunction with the lectures, the classes will study the following problems: The economics of the New Deal in the United States; the economic situation of England; the Japanese economic situation; the Italian experiment — economic organization; the Russian experiment and modern population problems.

Registration at the Provincial Recreation Centres has increased, according to official figures released today by Eric Martin, the department's registrar. With only three weeks of the current season gone, no less than 4,122 British Columbians enrolled for the three gymnasium classes offered at these centres, thereby practically doubling last year's enrolment of 2,078 for the same period, and being but 400 members short of last season's grand total. Concurrently, membership at the local centres, housed in the Chamber of Commerce Hall, the Crystal Garden, the Esquimalt gymnasium, the High School gymnasium, the Lake Hill Hall, the Marigold Hall, the Memorial Hall, the North Saanich Service Club Hall and the Victoria Y.M.C.A. gymnasium has grown to 646 girls and ladies and 116 boys and men.

Blind Organist Compiles Book

Music lovers, and particularly organists, in the city will be interested to learn that Dr. Alfred Hollins, the celebrated blind organist and composer, has recently written an autobiography. It will be remembered that on Thanksgiving Day, 1925, Dr. Hollins gave a recital in the Metropolitan Church at which about 1,200 people were present. On that occasion he improvised on themes given by J. D. Macey and G. J. Burnett.

In his new book he makes extended references to his visit in Victoria and the people he met here. The whole volume deals with his life, from his student days to the present time. He is now organist at St. George's West Church, Edinburgh. The six-month tour he made of Canada and the United States in 1925 is described in a most interesting manner. The publishers of the book are Blackwood & Co., Edinburgh, and it is entitled "A Blind Musician Looks Back."

The City School Board yesterday evening conveyed thanks by resolution to the city engineer's department and Police Chief Heatley for their assistance and co-operation in laying out pedestrian lanes at city schools.

"For nagging coughs and as a tonic builder, John, you just can't beat Fellows' Syrup to help tone a man up and keep him well."

"You're right, Uncle Fred. The wife says 'Fellows' is fine for the nerves; and it helps us all to keep free from winter colds. We give it to our youngsters, and they're strong and sturdy."

FELLOWS' SYRUP, originated by a Maritime chemist more than 60 years ago, is a perfectly balanced compound of mineral elements of recognized value including Iron, Phosphorus and Manganese. Doctors throughout the world prescribe it for

Chronic Fatigue

Life is miserable when you're "tired all the time." Fellows' Syrup helps to build strength and energy and to rid you of that "tired" feeling.

Slow Convalescence

When recovery from illness is distressingly slow, "Fellows" can be a real help. The minerals in "Fellows" are just what is needed to help build new strength and energy.

Anæmic Conditions

If you're underweight and lack vitality, your system needs the minerals in Fellows' Syrup. They help to improve the appetite, assist digestion and enrich the blood.

Nervous Trouble

Feeling "on edge"? Robbed of life's pleasures? "Fellows" gives your system the very minerals it needs to nourish the nerves and improve your health.

AVOID IMITATIONS

Asylum Guards Nervous Wrecks

N. W. Whittaker Urges Shorter Working Hours at Wilkinson Road Home; Some Forced to Quit When Nerves Cannot Stand Strain, He Says

Conditions in a mental hospital for the criminally insane were described in the B.C. Legislature yesterday by Norman Whittaker, Liberal, Saanich, in an appeal for shorter working hours for attendants at the Wilkinson Road home.

The men now worked twelve-hour shifts with half an hour off for meals and every fourth day off, he said, similar to other provincial institutions.

"I feel," he said, "a distinction should be drawn between a hospital for the criminally insane and other institutions."

"The work at Wilkinson Road is particularly nerve-wracking."

"The attendants are dealing with patients who are not only mentally ill, but many of them are potentially dangerous also."

"The attendants never know when a patient may have a violent spell."

"Diplomacy, and not force, is required in the handling of the inmates."

"Many of the inmates are large, powerful men, and the attendants have a continual dread of any recurrence of violence."

"I have spoken to several men who have been obliged to give up their work because their nerves can no longer stand the strain."

"I sincerely trust that a remedy will be found and that the matter will not be allowed to stand over."

SAANICH ROADS

Mr. Whittaker made a plea for the widening and banking of shoulders on the government highways in Saanich, the East and West Saanich Roads.

Public appreciation of the forest problems of the province was urged by the speaker, saying the government was faced with two serious matters, the prevention of waste and the utilization of waste timber products and fire prevention.

FOREST PROTECTION

A lot of money had been spent on fire-fighting, but not enough on prevention of fires, he said. Although $400,000 was voted this year for forest protection, that was not enough when one considered that Ontario spent 95% of its forest revenue and Alberta 13% on preserving the asset. British Columbia's contribution is 35%.

Mr. Whittaker concluded his speech with an appeal for action on the West Coast Road, referring to a proposal the road be built and financed by levies upon logging trucks, which would use it.

Challenge Made On Beer Prices

Savage Pursues 5-cent Beer Campaign in Legislature

A challenge to debate the question of beer prices in British Columbia was flung at the government benches in the B.C. Legislature yesterday afternoon by Hugh Savage, Independent, Cowichan-Newcastle.

Mr. Savage, who had demanded five-cent beer for the working man, declared:

"Are the statements I have made, or quoted, right, or are they wrong? Is it of public interest that this government is getting the very short end of the stick in the drink traffic?"

"Is it of public interest that residents and visitors alike are liable to be served varying and unstated quantities of beer in unstandardized glasses for their standard money?"

"There have been no answers to my challenge for three years. Is it that neither politicians nor press dare publicly argue, comment or criticize? Are you afraid? Of what are you afraid?"

Mr. Savage claimed the government got only 31 per cent profit on beer, while the brewers got 250 per cent and the beer parlor operators 100 per cent.

The Cowichan member urged the police department pay greater attention to hand-drawn beer.

"If they wander down to the Mill Bay ferry they may see old men and women—not so old—who have merely a rudimentary knowledge or capacity of handling a car," he declared.

"Elimination of bad drivers is essential if we are to cut down traffic fatalities and accidents."

Mr. Savage said in one city there was a licensed-truck driver who was both deaf and dumb.

RESIDENCE IS DEFINED

Legislature to Settle Welfare Responsibility Between Local Districts

A bill to define the residences of persons who need relief, health and welfare services, to settle the responsibility of the different municipalities in these matters was introduced in the Legislature yesterday afternoon by Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary.

The bill provides that for such purposes a resident shall be:

(1) A head of a family who has lived in the district for one year without getting relief, public or private; or one who has lived for three years in the district, although getting relief.

(2) A person who has lived in the province for a year without getting relief and has lived in the particular local area longer than in any other place; or if he has had relief, has lived in the province three years and

Industry Loan Held Payrolls

Aid to White Pine Lumber Company Kept Men Off Relief, House Told

In loans it has made to the White Pine Lumber Company, the government is fully secured against loss and its action in keeping the industry going is commended by the people of the district, Capt. G. S. Leary, Liberal, Kaslo-Slocan, said in the Legislature yesterday afternoon, replying to criticism by Mrs. D. G. Steves, C.C.F., North Vancouver, of industrial loans to the firm of which he is a member.

"I can assure the lady member that when the time comes around for an election the fair-minded people of that district will show their appreciation of what the government is trying to do for the people in the way of maintaining a payroll," Mr. Leary said.

"Other sawmills in the district have passed out of existence, and this is the only one left, and the district is dependent on this operation for its livelihood."

In the last six months the White Pine Company's payrolls had been $35,000, and it had helped tremendously to keep people off relief.

Discussing forestry, Capt. Leary complained about exportation of saw logs from crown-granted land, stating that out of one billion feet produced last year, $40,000,000 feet came from the E. and N. land belt on Vancouver Island, was subject to no royalty and no taxation, and no provision was made for a new crop.

"Has anybody got the absolute right to deplete our forests without making some provision for new crop to serve the future?" he asked.

He suggested an export tax be placed on raw logs exported from crown lands.

At the annual meeting of Margaret Jenkins' Parent-Teacher Association officers were elected as follows: President, Graeme Malcolm; vice-president, Ernest Butterworth; second vice-president, Mrs. G. Pottinger; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. G. Anstey; committee, Mrs. Masters, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Morgan, C. J. Wright, R. MacKay, D. A. Baylis. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Bridge, the retiring president; also Miss A. Cox, retiring secretary-treasurer who has gone to France. Mr. Butterworth gave an address which was much appreciated on "The New Curriculum."

This was followed by some discussion and it was decided to open a "Question Box" to be dealt with at future meetings.

has lived in the particular area longer than anywhere else.

A married woman, separated from her husband, is considered to be resident of the same district as he is until she has been separated a year or more. If her husband has gone away she comes under the general classification.

Dependent children are classed as having the same residence district as their parents; or an illegitimate child the same as his mother.

The bill provides for a board of arbitration of three members to settle disputes about residence. They will serve without remuneration but get their traveling expenses from the provincial government.

The measure will come into effect by proclamation of the government.

History of Theatre Is Told

Harry Tauber Of Vienna Heard By Beaux-Arts

"If we do not work from a sacrificial point of view towards culture, we cannot expect improvement for the theatre of the future," warned Harry Tauber, artist and stage designer, formerly of Vienna, in an address before the Beaux-Arts Society last night at the Crystal Garden.

Mr. Tauber thus emphasized his plea to those interested in the art of the theatre in Victoria to set their standards by the spiritual value rather than that of theatre profits, for the success of tomorrow was largely dependent upon the achievements of today.

Introduced by Mr. Jack Barracough, Mr. Tauber gave a fascinating story of the history and development of the theatre, showing the influence of the various epochs upon it. The Egyptian period during which stagecraft took the form of processions, having direct bearing upon natural phenomena and seasonal functions, the ancient Greek theatre, which introduced the orchestra idea, the Middle Ages, when mystery plays had full sway, and the Renaissance period, with its religious atmosphere in the theatre, were all dealt with by the speaker.

Of the theatre of the future Mr. Tauber said: "Each epoch has its special spiritual task, and the underlying principle of today is to widen and broaden our outlook in an endeavor to consider the past and future simultaneously."

The lecturer showed a sketch plan of the latest development in theatre design, produced in Holland, in which a revolving sectional stage surrounds the audience, three scenes being visible at one time.

Miss Helen Sweetland, president of the Beaux-Arts, expressed the thanks of the society to Mr. Tauber, and also announced that he will give an address this evening at Victoria College at 8.15 o'clock, on "Contemporary Art," illustrated with blackboard sketches. The public is invited.

Workroom Need Told to Women

"At the Gordon Head Current Events Club on Monday Mrs. J. S. Skilling outlined recent important events in an interesting manner, highlights being the Spanish Civil War and the presidential election. The speaker read extracts from Miss Cora Hind's impressions of Australia, and an impressive description of London's observance of Armistice Day. She also read Kipling's poem, "General Summary."

Miss Frances Fitz Gibbon, of the Women's Workroom committee, gave the history of that organization from its inception in 1931, when it was organized as an emergency measure to assist women, there being no direct relief for women at that time. Special tribute was paid by the speaker to the originator, the late Miss Wigley. Since that time the sum of $67,000 has passed through the hands of the committee, almost half of the entire sum being contributed.

The workroom, in addition to making up new materials, make rugs, do mending and altering of clothing. The committee is very grateful for any donations, whether money, used clothing, new materials or only rags for rug making. There is only enough cash on hand to carry on until February, and the future of this splendid helping medium is very uncertain, unless some way can be found to make it a permanent institution. Miss Fitz Gibbon said.

Mrs. Frost thanked Miss Fitz Gibbon. The secretary read a letter from Mrs. Dawson, president of the Girl Guides, thanking the club for the flag donated by them.

Mrs. C. A. Hebdon sang very charmingly, "Little Goodnight Prayer" and "The Little Irish Girl," accompanied by Mrs. E. O. Paddon. Miss Oldfield will speak of Spanish welfare work at the next meeting of the club.

Doctor Favors Births at Home

Associated Press
Chicago, Nov. 13.—Dr. Joseph S. Delee, who has brought between 6,000 and 8,000 babies into the world and had "more or less direct supervision over at least 100,000 other births," says women should be "better off at home than in many hospitals" during childbirth.

Dr. Delee, just passed his sixty-seventh birthday, charged yesterday that most medical schools graduate doctors with insufficient obstetrical experience at present. He asserted hospitals must separate maternity wards from general hospitals if they are to lower the maternity death rate.

Mrs. R. H. Pooley To Open Bazaar

The women's auxiliary to the Victoria West United Church will hold their annual bazaar in the church hall on Wednesday afternoon, November 18. Mrs. R. H. Pooley will formally open the affair at 3 o'clock. Many attractive stalls have been arranged and tea will be served.

Comic's Bride

When Arthur "Harpo" Marx, film comedian, mentioned to President Roosevelt, in a letter thanking the latter for an autographed picture, that "Harpo" had been married since September, it was learned the bride was Susan Fleming, above, former Follies girl. She is a native of New York City and was educated in Forest Hills, Long Island.

Eastern Star Dance—The Esquimalt Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a dance in St. Paul's Parish Hall tonight, from 9 till 12 o'clock. There will also be a tombola, cards for non-dancers and refreshments.

Bazaar Was Financial Success

St. Joseph's W.A. Rewarded For Fine Effort

Excellent support was given to the annual bazaar arranged by the Ladies' Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital and held yesterday afternoon and evening in the Nurses' Home, resulting in a handsome addition to the funds.

Mrs. F. J. Sehl, the president, was the general convenor, and was ably assisted by a bevy of workers at the various stalls. The stalls, all most attractively decorated, were arranged around the auditorium, and the many tempting wares found ready purchasers throughout the afternoon.

The conveners were: Fannywork, Miss Mackay, assisted by Mrs. Vernon Thomson, Mrs. Sabin and Mrs. Jones; novelties, Mrs. T. W. Gill, assisted by Mrs. W. W. Baines and Miss A. Baines; baby stall, Mrs. J. S. Byrom, assisted by Mrs. Dixon; home cooking, Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. Walter Fraser; candy, Mrs. E. C. McQuade and Mrs. N. B. Hall; contest, Mrs. F. M. Bryant; fish pond, Mrs. T. S. McLaughlin and Miss E. Whiteside.

There was another most popular diversion, being served in the lounge, where the tea table was centred with a large silver bowl filled with chrysanthemums and flower lights in pastel shades and flanked by tall green tapers in silver sconces. The table was covered with a beautiful Italian cutwork cloth and presiding at the tea and coffee urns during the tea hour were Mrs. Gordon Kenning, Mrs. James Adam, Mrs. Charles E. Wilson and Mrs. J. H. Moore. In charge of the tea tickets was Mrs. A. C. Sinclair.

In the evening the Knights of Columbus took charge of several amusing games, bingo and paddle, providing much entertainment and revenue.

The Sisters and members of the auxiliary are appreciative of the kindness of the members of the Knights of Columbus and all friends who so ably assisted them in carrying on the good work of the auxiliary.

Weddings

HANSON-ROSE
At a quiet ceremony, on November 12, at St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church in Esquimalt, Rev. Arthur Bischofberger officiating, Miss Marianne Lasenby Rose, third daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. J. F. Rose of the Island, Chesham, Bucks, was united in marriage to Captain H. A. Hanson, late of the Indian Army Reserve Officers (Cavalry). The bride was given in marriage by her elder brother, Major H. L. Rose, and the groom was supported by the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. E. T. Hodgkinson. The honeymoon was spent in the south and on their return the bride and groom will reside in Port Alberni.

B.C. Daughters Plan Social
The Native Daughters of B.C. Post No. 3 held their regular monthly business meeting on Wednesday evening in the Knights of Pythias Hall, Broad Street, with the chief factor, Miss Jean Lorimer, presiding. Mrs. A. Roach reported on a very interesting meeting she attended of the Local Council of Women: Mrs. Hubbard reported on several sick members.

Miss Bee Hawkins, chaplain of Post No. 3, laid a wreath on the Cenotaph at the memorial service held on November 11. The next meeting of the post will be a social evening, on November 25. Each member is requested to bring a friend as her guest to this affair, which will take the form of a court whist party and social evening, followed by refreshments. The post in this way hopes to entertain as guests a few of its many friends who have helped it at various times, and it is hoped there will be a good attendance.

The hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. J. Brown, Mrs. C. J. Campbell, Mrs. R. Dalziel, Miss Marjorie Gillies, Mrs. A. Roach, Mrs. C. Davies and Miss Boo Wilson.

The attendance prize was won by Mrs. T. C. Hubbard.

The EXPERT'S TEST of face powder

Here is the famous "cling" test that face powder experts use—you can make it in a jiffy. Take a pinch of the powder you now use. Rub hard between your thumb and forefinger. So many powders quickly thin out, rub away and take a hard shine under this test. See what happens with yours!

Try the same test using Princess Pat, the only almond base powder. What a difference you'll see! It won't rub away—won't shine—remains soft, velvety, clinging. Experts know that the exclusive almond base makes Princess Pat stay on longer than any other powder. Millions of women know this too—and they know Princess Pat powder gives greater beauty.

Princess Pat powder makes the skin exquisitely smooth—without a "powdered" look. It imparts the natural, peach-bloom smoothness of childhood—gives that elusive, fascinating freshness that captures masculine admiration and brings you thrilling compliments!

Princess Pat powder is gloriously "shine proof." Even your nose remains perfectly powdered for hours. Your complexion is protected against coarse pores—is daily encouraged to become more velvety, more alluring. Remember, if you haven't used Princess Pat powder, you haven't used almond base powder; there is only one! It's a Princess Pat secret. Sell everywhere. Accept no substitute.

Baby Moses Story Is Told

Relief Worker's Wife Admits Dog Story Fake

Pearl River, La., Nov. 13.—Louis Crawford, backwoods relief project worker, stood by his wife today in the fact of her acknowledgment of the motherhood of "Baby Moses."

"I love Effie," Louis Crawford said simply, after his twenty-four-year-old wife—twenty year his junior—declared false her previous story that she had snatched it from the mouth of a dog that had brought it to their doorstep.

She told authorities she invented the first account because she did not want her husband to know she had borne the infant.

Mrs. Crawford said she stole out Sunday night and gave birth to the baby in the pine woods outside their one-room cabin. She said she hid it in a crate for two days before showing it to Crawford and telling him a big, brindle dog had brought it to the house wrapped in a swaddling cloth.

Meanwhile, the blue-eyed, six-pound boy remained in a New Orleans hospital while District Attorney C. Sidney Frederick said he would ask the coroner to examine Mrs. Crawford in an effort to determine if she is the child's mother.

The baby—Mrs. Crawford had said she wanted to adopt it and name it "Moses," because it was found by a miracle—was reported suffering a slight cold at the hospital, but otherwise in good health.

Institute Helps Needy Seamen

Grateful letters from members of the crew of the S.S. Temple Most, damaged in collision with another vessel recently, were read at yesterday's meeting of the Connaught Seamen's Institute, the sailors expressing their appreciation of sweaters, socks and ear fare supplied by the institute, and help given by Mrs. R. W. Sayer.

Six men from the ship lost all their effects and were assisted by the institute, and Mrs. Pinnermore reported visiting one of the men who was a St. Joseph's Hospital patient. Thanks were expressed to Mr. A. S. Denny and family and Mr. and Mrs. C. English for their kindness in entertaining the cadets from the Temple Most.

Mrs. R. W. Sayer, the president, was in the chair. She had given new curtains to the institute rooms, and Mrs. David Dole paid for material for recovering the chairs. It was decided to recover the billiard table, the cost to be met from the donation received for that purpose from the Navy League Chapter I.O.D.E.

Final arrangements for the anniversary tea and bridge to be held in the lower lounge of the Empress Hotel next Tuesday were made. There are still a few tables available and reservations may be made by telephoning Mrs. Dole at E 7891 or Mrs. McMurray at E 0070. After the meeting yesterday, Madame Claudet and Miss de Trafford served tea.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRD

Stealing is a serious problem and must be dealt with, but all mothers should expect that children in their growth toward maturity will make some mistakes of this kind. It is almost certain that between the fifth and the twelfth year the child—whatever his environment—will take money or possessions which belong to others.

Mrs. H.S.G. describes a typical case: "My little seven-year-old girl takes money from her sister's purse. She has done this off and on since last winter. Though she has been severely punished, and promises not to do it again, she still does. She cannot explain why she does this when she can have candy and ice cream every day, in fact everything she wants. She always buys candy or gum with the money and likes to treat her friends."

Twenty-five cents a week

"I have tried giving her an allowance of 25 cents a week. The first week it was all right. The second week she spent it all in two days and had to do without candy or ice cream the rest of the week. The third week it was all right, then again it was just like the second week, so I took it away from her."

You did not really give her an allowance, you gave her some money

HALF-ACRE in EDEN

By Robert Edward Dickson

(Copyright, 1936)

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MARCIA CANFIELD, daughter of wealthy PHILIP CANFIELD, knows that the neighborhood is buzzing with gossip over the sudden disappearance of FRANK KENDRICK, whose engagement to Marcia has been announced. Since his disappearance, a shortage in Kendrick's business accounts has been discovered.

CHAPTER III

It was a custom in Bobba Neck to cap almost any evening's pastime or endeavor with hamburger sandwiches and coffee at the Dog Wagon, the only restaurant in town which remained open all night. Here many men and other night workers and the suburban railroad train crews shared counter and tables with formal dress customers on their way home from parties.

Thus to the Dog Wagon came Marcia Canfield and Helen Waddell and a dozen or so other newly-ordained actors and actresses, after the Stagecraft Guild try-outs. It was a midweek night, and bitterly cold, so that few townspeople than usual were abroad, and as the hour was only midnight, the regular crowd of night-working customers had not yet assembled. None of the counter stools was occupied, so that all of the Stagecraft Guild group found seats together, in a long and noisy row.

Tony Stellect, the young "chef," to whom the acquaintanceships he formed among the patrons were far more sustaining than all the food in the place, chose to take their orders himself, waving the inevitably adroit waiter away from such intimate contact with the elite. Although he knew that each of the crowd would most assuredly call for the traditional hamburgers and coffee, he inquired and received the information, person by person down the long line, with polite and tone which would have graced a far more pretentious board.

Having served with that dispatch which characterizes lunch counters, and is equalled nowhere else in the world, Tony leaned on the cash register and looked affectionately upon the social cream of the night's business. At twenty-five, Tony found life good. He had a nice job where he met people; although his mother was dead he managed to maintain a comfortable home for his semi-invalid father; he had friends and the endless variety of suburban and waterfront recreations. He had also, he reflected—but then the glare of headlights through the restaurant windows caused him to turn and look out the frost-smear panes. Two cars had stopped in the diagonal parking spaces at the curb. Their lights went out Tony did not know that their engines were still turning over. Nor did he know that while four men crossed the sidewalk toward the restaurant, a man remained at the wheel of each car and still another man had taken shelter in a doorway at the street intersection, a dozen paces away.

The four entered the restaurant, stopping just inside the door to stamp the snow off their shoes and rub the chill out of their hands. It was not surprising that their coats collars were pulled high and their hats low over their faces, for the wind was strong and snow was flying. Three of the men started toward seats at the rear end of the counter; the fourth paused, head bent, to remove his eyeglasses and wipe the steam from them.

Tony moved down the counter toward the three who were taking seats. Midway, he was halted by sight of a pistol in the hand of one, and by the voice of the man who had waited near the door.

"This is a stickup!" said the voice, without nervousness. "Everybody remain seated. Keep your hands above the counter. We've got you covered from both ends!"

Tony looked around. The man near the door had replaced his glasses, and he held his pistol so that it was hidden from view of anyone who might look in from outside. The man at the rear who also held a pistol had taken a stool and was pointing the gun along the counter top. The two other men at once moved expertly along the line of customers, emptying all pockets within their reach and taking the girls' handbags from counter or laps. "And you, chef," the voice of the leader continued, "lean on the counter with both hands! You, too, waiter! Talk to the customers. You folks go on eating. Don't anybody put his hands below the counter!"

Tony watched the two men who were making the quick collection of valuables. Watched them bitterly. He was proud of the little restaurant, proud of his job. He felt, somehow, the honor of his employer and of himself were being ruined; his position here as host, the customers were as guests.

The two men came opposite; Tony watched them narrowly. They bent over the seated customers, with heads down to their task. A cleaver and knives were within Tony's reach, but a gun at each end of the counter—No use resisting; Tony's reading of the news had provided him with the fundamentals of behavior in the presence of bandits. But if only he could recognize one of the robbers!

The collection was finished and the two men with the loot left the restaurant. The man at the rear rose from his stool, held his pistol in his pocket and joined his companion at the door. The latter tried to reach the cash register, on a shelf back of the counter, but failed.

"Come here, chef," he called. "Hold your hands together, down in front of you. Open this machine."

Tony walked toward him. He heard one car back from the curb and move off. Furiously his mind sought some means of thwarting these remaining bandits. But there appeared to be no help. Angerly he pressed the "No Sale" key and the cash drawer opened.

The man with the glasses reached for the bills, leaning far over the cash counter. His face, Tony thought, was not one he knew. The other man stood with his back to the restaurant, a hand on the doorknob. Tony thought of the telephone, and glanced at it over his shoulder. The glance was not lost on the cash drawer looter. He murmured something to his companion.

The man at the door drew from a pocket and handed over an exceptionally large pair of pliers. The man with the spectacles reached across the counter and snapped a phone wire with the cutting edge of the tool.

Tony stiffened, as if he had had a physical shock.

The robbers went out, with a parting admonition. There was the sound of the second car pulling away. With a sob, Tony ran around the end of the counter to the door. "I'll get the cops!" he called back, and dashed out, heedless of the weather. Racing down the street to the police station, two blocks away, he fought for composure, welcomed the wind chilling his hot face.

He had recognized the pliers. The police sergeant and two patrolmen, routed from the comfort of the station house, found the Dog Wagon's customer's quite recovered from any fright, but the thrill remained and a tornado of talk was in progress.

After a futile few moments the sergeant conceived the idea of pursuit along the bandits' automobile tracks in the fresh snow, and the patrolmen set out in their car, returning soon, however, to report that the tracks had all but disappeared by reason of the wind and continuing snowfall and, anyway, they were found to mingle with other fading tracks on the main highway.

The sergeant, meanwhile, having sent out such alarms as occurred to him and which he relayed by various messengers to the police station, began the tedious task of listing the money and articles stolen. He was somewhat hampered by the fact that general conversation continued at high speed, frequently including even the person whom the sergeant was trying to question. Fortunately, no individual loss appeared to have been great. Several persons had been robbed of watches, all had lost money, from small change to $10 or so. Someone remarked that the robbers should have waited until a Saturday night, when wallets would have been full.

It was the arrival of the first of the milkmen's hour customers which caused the sergeant to adjourn the questioning to the police station, and he ordered all concerned, excepting Tony, to follow him.

"Didn't recognize any of the guys, eh, Tony?" the officer asked as he started out.

"Never saw any of them before, far as I know," Tony replied, hoping his voice was steady.

"Well, I'll see you later, when I've finished with these," said the sergeant, motioning the company to join him.

All of the Stagecraft group went out, still talking excitedly, exchanging constantly turned notes on their reactions. Tony turned to the new customers who were waiting.

The new customers wanted to know all about it. Tony gave the first of a series of recitals that was to continue, as other customers arrived, until dawn, when the day chef came on duty.

Taking off her gloves at the police station, Marcia gasped. She had for a time forgotten one item among the contents of her handbag, now miles away in the possession of the bandits. Her mother's ring!

The ring was years old and wearing thin, so that its sharp edge hurt the finger. During the day Marcia had removed it and dropped it into her bag, intending to have it repaired. She had forgotten the fact until, stripping off her gloves, she noticed her hand bare of its usual sign of ornament.

It was the most cherished of her possessions—a ruby ring that her mother had left to a very young Marcia, seventeen years ago. It had always seemed a most enduring link to the mother whom Marcia, as she grew up, couldn't remember very well.

The sergeant laboriously wrote down its description.

Tony Stellect stopped in at the police station on his way home from work at dawn. As he discussed the robbery with the sergeant, he glanced through the list of the articles stolen. After the name of Marcia Canfield he read of the ring. It was described in some detail, and—"It was the lady's mother's," the sergeant had written.

Tony went home with tight lips. He, too, had the childhood memory of a mother. It only made harder the job he saw ahead.

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Digestive disorders occasionally are associated with headaches. In fact, three types of headaches are regularly concerned with disturbances of digestion.

People who are constipated may insist that they always have a headache if they do not have an action of the bowels every two or four hours. Such people sooner or later become slaves to the cathartic habit. They should have competent medical attention. Dr. M. Fishbein with complete regulation of the hygiene of the bowels.

Other people who are chronically tired and who suffer from indigestion have headaches following the eating of food. If their diets are regulated so that they eat small quantities of food at frequent intervals; if they take adequate rest, with mild and limited exercise; and if they give suitable attention to the conditions of their digestion, they will improve in general health and their headaches will disappear.

A third type of headache associated with digestion is that which follows sensitivity to certain foods. If the sufferer can find out what food brings on the attack and eliminate it from his diet, the condition will be brought under control.

This type of sick headache was first understood seventy-five years ago. One observer says that when a headache is due to sensitivity to food, the pain begins in or near one eye and spreads over one side of the head.

The onset of such headaches may be accompanied by confusion or forgetfulness, sweating or flushing of the tissues, and a feeling of numbness of tongue, lips, or nose. Occasionally, also, there may be a feeling of nausea, the eyelids may become puffy and canker sores may break out in the mouth. Excessive fatigue, worry and excitement may bring on the symptoms or intensify them.

People who are regularly subject to sick headaches should avoid substances to which they are sensitive. The foods most frequently associated with sick headaches and food sensitivity are chocolate, onions, cabbage, cucumbers, apples, pork and meat products or intensely them.

When these foods are eliminated from the diet this form of sick headache often will disappear.

Lighting Survey Is Progressing

An extensive report covering activities of the special committee engaged in the lighting survey of Victoria schools was presented to the City School Board yesterday evening by Trustee Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin.

Mrs. MacLaurin said the committee was now in active operation with preliminary details regarding the survey and visits had been made to 200 classrooms in which changes are contemplated.

In cases of this type the doctor will make a test of the sensitivity of the skin to the proteins of the foods concerned. When these foods are eliminated from the diet this form of sick headache often will disappear.

Give Argument For Secession

Island Autonomy Promoted By Speakers at Metchosin Meeting

Arguments in favor of an autonomy for Vancouver Island, under which it was claimed the island would receive full benefit of its revenue were advanced by H. Despard Twigg, secretary, and Bruce A. McKelvie, at a meeting in the Metchosin Community Hall under the auspices of the Island Provincial Association.

The association's aims were outlined by Mr. Twigg and endorsed by the meeting. R. S. Johnson was the chairman.

Mr. Twigg dealt with the removal of industrial activity to the mainland since the annexation of the island colony to British Columbia in 1866. Enterprise on the island had been more and more dependent on its capital resources, he said.

He compared road construction on Vancouver Island with the mainland during the last thirty-five years, saying that the expenditure had not nearly reached revenue collected. Other departmental expenditures were also compared on the same basis.

Mr. McKelvie spoke of debt patronage which he said was due to patronage and extravagant expenditure. The proposal that the Department of National Defence should see that Vancouver Island has a highway over which heavy transports could travel in case of war emergency was put forward by Dr. J. Allen Harris, Liberal, South Okanagan, in course of the budget debate in the B.C. Legislature.

"I do not propose to be an alarmist," Dr. Harris said, "but with the situation so tense as it is in the world today; with the feverish activity in war preparation; no one knows when and where trouble will start."

"At least we should see that a city the size of Vancouver is protected to the extent of having means for evacuation, if necessary, or at least that alternative routes from the east be established."

Dr. Harris was referring in the latter statement to the Hope-Princeton Road to the interior, which he also advocated.

Library Seeks Co-operation

More Books Required For New Curriculum, School Board Told

An appeal for closer co-operation between the city school board and the library board with a view to meeting needs required under the new provincial school curriculum was urged by a delegation of the library board at a school trustees' meeting yesterday evening.

Miss Margaret Clay, librarian, acted as spokesman and explained to the board the library work with the schools in Victoria had developed as far as possible within the present resources of the library.

There was an urgent need, Miss Clay said, for the purchase of 700 books for children and 432 books for teachers, required by the new curriculum.

The library requested purchase of these books by the school trustees, at an approximate cost of $2,264.

The library was prepared to undertake cataloguing of the books and other details in regard to their purchase and inclusion in the library service.

In a written report on library work with schools Miss Clay said it was a matter of profound satisfaction on the part of librarians that the value of books other than texts in education had finally received proper emphasis. This was regarded as an important advance in educational development in British Columbia. The Public Library appreciated this advance and welcomed the opportunity for close co-operation with the schools, but could not continue to give this service with the present appropriation.

In progressive centres the best system had been found to be that under which the school boards financed the library and the library board had charge of administration, she said.

The matter was tabled for further consideration by the board pending investigation of the proposal and the requirements.

Purchase of equipment required for grades seven and eight under the new school curriculum was authorized by the City School Board yesterday evening. The equipment required is estimated to cost about $850.

School Patrol Launched Here

Traffic Safety Education Will Start at City Schools

Safety patrols at city schools which will insure safe crossings for children when traveling to and from schools were launched by the Kiwanis Club and members of the City School Board yesterday evening.

The patrols will consist of uniformed boys who will carry red flags, which will be used to guide students across intersections.

The Kiwanians are undertaking complete financial responsibility for the patrols, and will supply boys chosen for the patrols with rain-coats, rubber hats, rubbers and suitably lettered belts plainly visible by motorists.

Members of the club who explained the plan to the trustees were Murray Martindale, who acted as spokesman, Walter A. Walker, W. A. Lunney and Mr. Mallick.

Mr. Martindale explained in a letter, which he read to the board, that it was desired to organize a Kiwanis school patrol committee whose membership was to include an appointee or the board and the chief of police. Trustee Kenneth Ferguson was named the trustees' representative on the committee.

The general scheme was heartily commended by Trustees W. C. Moresby, K. C. Mrs. D. L. McLaurin and Walter Stenland, who congratulated the Kiwanis Club for its public spirit in instituting these patrols and undertaking to finance them.

Mr. Mallick explained the purpose of the patrols was not to control traffic, but to educate the children to safety.

In carrying out the patrols the children carrying the signal flags will wait until traffic is clear and then lead the children across the intersections. Traffic will not be resumed until the crossing has been safely made.

In connection with the plan Major A. C. Hinton, supervisor of works, submitted to the board several well-prepared diagrams of traffic lanes at city schools illustrating how the patrols were to be conducted. He also prepared a number of red and white "stop" signs which the patrols will carry.

For his work in preparing the data, Major Hinton was congratulated by Trustee P. E. George during the presentation of the building and grounds committee report.

NEED CHANGES ON B.C. LINE
P.G.E. Needs Transcontinental Hookup, MacKay Tells House

If the P.G.E. Railway is not extended from Squamish to Vancouver, the Lillooet-Squamish section of the line should be abandoned and the railway linked up from Lillooet with the transcontinental lines at Lytton, Major D. M. MacKay, Liberal, Cariboo, declared in the Legislature yesterday.

Stressing that the P.G.E. representing a provincial investment of $83,000,000, was a problem for the people of British Columbia as a whole, as well as those in Cariboo and Lillooet, Major MacKay said:

"The line will continue to be a financial burden upon us until it is hooked up to, or absorbed by, one of the large transcontinental systems."

Right now, although showing a small operating profit, the railway was facing increasing competition from motor transport, he said.

It was imperative steps be taken to meet this competition if the line was to survive. It must provide terminal services, sectional car bodies, provision for less than carloads, and new rates to meet these conditions.

The Cariboo member appealed for better roads for the "side road citizenry" of the province, declaring they paid a greater proportion of the motoring costs, more for gasoline, more for repairs, because of poor surfaces, and got less mileage.

These were the people who deserved more consideration, not just the tourists.

CHINESE SOON EQUAL WHITES
Strachan Sees Growing Menace From Orientals in British Columbia

At the present rate of increase, the Oriental population in British Columbia will equal the white population in sixty years, D. W. Strachan, Liberal, declared in the Legislature yesterday afternoon in a plea for Oriental control.

Oriental births today were in the ratio of about one to eight whites and the difference was steadily being lessened, the Dewdney member said.

An actual illustration of what might happen was the growth of the negro population in the United States. "When the negroes were emancipated in 1865 there were 8,000,000 colored people in the United States. Now there were 25,000,000 and they are multiplying three times faster than the white people," he said. "In many of the southern states they now outnumber the white people seven to one, and it is not very pleasant for white people to live there. "You can easily visualize such a thing in British Columbia with the Oriental population." "We should not hesitate to deal with this problem. Now is the time. It will never get better. It can only get worse the longer we delay."

Spencer Gives Talk On Russia

Interesting Motion Pictures of European Visit Shown

A motion picture illustrated lecture on his recent trip through Europe, and Russia in particular, was given by Fred Spencer to a gathering of newspapermen in The Colonist board room yesterday.

Mr. Spencer's instructive and interesting lecture dealt extensively with Russia, where he was permitted by the authorities to take pictures of several parts of the country. The information he gave was first-hand and he made some interesting discoveries in regard to food prices, wages and sanitary conditions there.

Mr. Spencer found food prices high when compared with those of Canada and the United States, and wages comparatively low in regard to the high cost of living.

The speaker's films gave a clear illustration of the types of people in Russia. Construction both ancient and modern was also depicted in detail and pictures of factories and farms were shown.

Mr. Spencer's purpose in making the trip was to find out for himself just what conditions in Europe were, he said, and to portray those conditions as they were, by means of his camera. Other parts of his film dealt with France, Germany and Poland.

READING CAN AID HEALING

B.C. Hospitals' Association to Co-operate With Library Group

To consider a new kind of hospital treatment—bibliotherapy, the use of selected reading matter in improving a patient's mental health—a committee will be appointed by the British Columbia Hospitals' Association, it was decided at yesterday afternoon's session of the association's convention at the Empress Hotel.

The action was decided on after the session had heard an eloquent exposition of the place of the library in the hospital from E. S. Robinson, Vancouver city librarian. At the conclusion of his address Mr. Robinson suggested the appointment of a small committee by the association to work in conjunction with a similar group from the British Columbia Library Association and if necessary with the provincial government to consider the possibility of setting up a demonstration hospital library in the province along lines somewhat similar to those of the rural libraries.

The use of books in hospitals had been overlooked until recent years, he said.

WORSE THAN DRUGS

Actually the provision of wrong books to a patient could be more dangerous than the giving of wrong diet or wrong medicine. There were always antidotes or stomach pumps to take care of such mistakes, while the wrong type of book could make an impression on the patient's mind which could never be erased.

The selection of the right reading matter for each type of patient was work which required training both in literature and in medicine, and should be carried out by specially qualified librarians.

A book which was poor in point of literary value might be a masterpiece as far as healing was concerned, he said, and the converse was also true. "Books should be prescribed with the same care as diet and medicine," he added.

In the course of the afternoon session the association also heard a report from Dr. H. S. Stalker, assistant superintendent of the Vancouver General Hospital, on the recent convention of the American Hospital Association in Cleveland. The main point of interest of the convention, which was attended by 3,000 persons, had been the great display of hospital equipment, valued in all at more than $1,000,000. He said of interest, also, had been the chance to visit other hospitals and watch other methods in operation.

"The inspiration and knowledge acquired at a convention of this sort is invaluable," said Dr. Stalker.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARIES

The work of women's auxiliaries to hospitals throughout the province was reviewed by Mrs. A. C. Wilkes, convener of the standing committee on auxiliaries.

Mrs. Wilkes presented reports on behalf of women's auxiliaries of Chetmainus, Chilliwack, Kootenay Lake, Our Lady of Lourdes (Campbell River), St. Paul's (Vancouver), Vancouver General, Vancouver Occupational Therapy, St. Joseph's and Royal Jubilee Hospitals, and for the Junior auxiliaries of the Vancouver General and the two Victoria hospitals.

Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia, will publicly institute Rev. Canon S. J. Wickens to his new charge on Sunday morning next at 11 o'clock, at St. Michael's Church, Royal Oak. Bishop Sexton will also preach the sermon.

Fast-stepping Montreal Canadiens Nose Out Rival Maroons

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETE SALLAWAY

ENGLAND'S cricketers, now touring Australia, carry with them a familiar, yet curious injunction to "bring back the Ashes." First uttered in 1882 to a similar band of players setting out for "down under," it has echoed through the corridors of sport and its meaning is as pregnant today as it was in those Victorian days.

Broadly, "the Ashes" nowadays is synonymous with cricket supremacy and Gilbert Allen, skipper of the English team which opens the first of a series of five test matches against Australia December 4, is charged with the task of regaining cricket honors which England lost to a visiting Aussie team in 1934.

Contests between the two countries go back as far as 1876 when two tests were played in England, each team winning one. Since then the rivalry has grown and the Mother Country and the Commonwealth meet alternately in England and Australia every two years.

Australia is in the lead with fifty-three victories, one more than England and twenty-nine test matches have been drawn. In the 1934 series the Dominion players were successful, winning two games to England's one, while two matches were drawn.

It was in 1882 that the following epitaph appeared in The London Sporting Times: "In affectionate remembrance of English cricket, which died at the Oval on August 29, 1882. Deeply lamented by a large circle of sorrowing friends and acquaintances. R.I.P. (N.B.: The body will be cremated and the ashes taken to Australia.)"

And that was how the term "the Ashes," known wherever cricket is played, originated. Only one test was played that year in England.

When victory was in sight for the home players, F. B. Spofforth, demon Aussie bowler, turned the tables with a brilliant spell of bowling and England lost by seven runs.

That winter Hon. Ivo Bligh, later Lord Darnley, took a team "down under" with the command to "bring back the Ashes." At Melbourne he was solemnly presented with an earthenware urn which was filled with ashes. The series of four games ended in a stalemate, each country winning two, but the urn with the ashes remained in the possession of Lord Darnley and he kept it until his death.

The urn was formally presented to the Marylebone Cricket Club in 1928 and now stands in the "long room" among other historic cricket treasures.

Since Bligh's team went to Australia the title of cricket champion has swayed back-and-forth between England and the Commonwealth. Famous players, whose names are inscribed in cricket's hall of heroes, have fought great battles for the coveted "ashes."

England's chances this winter are quite bright. In its first four games Allen's team has been victorious three times, but grim battles are in prospect when it is opposed by the Commonwealth's full strength. The English team is riddled with injuries which will keep some players out of the game until shortly before the first test.

Walter Hammond, the Gloucestershire all-rounder, who has done big things for England in previous international encounters, is at the top of his form and already has several centuries to his credit. The touring team includes several youngsters, new to Australian cricket and it is expected they will improve rapidly as they become accustomed to conditions there.

Amerks-Chicago Fail to Score

Conny Smythe should toss Tommy Gorman one end of that crying towel. The rival master minds are in the same valley of humiliation today — both pilots of the only two-time losers in the infant National Hockey League season.

Gorman qualified for a post at the walling wall beside the Toronto Leaf pilot when Montreal Canadiens whipped his Maroons 2 to 1 last night. What made it harder for the blond Irishman to take was the fact 7,000 Montrealers watched Maroons humbled. That is more than used to see the red team win last season when they were champs.

To add to the Gorman-Smythe bewilderment Americans held Chicago to a scoreless tie in New York last night. That leaves the Habitués and the A's tied for first spot in the Canadian division and Maroons and Leafs in the cellar.

MAROONS FADE Condition told in the Montreal game. Just as they did Tuesday against New York Rangers, Maroons outplayed Canadiens for the first period and then faded. They blame it all on that maritime trip. "The fog and fish got us," says defenceman Cy Wentworth.

But Howie Morenz, Aurel Joliat and Johnny Gagnon had something to do with last night's win. The veteran line, reunited after two seasons' separation, scored Canadiens two goals and backchecked like youngsters.

Gagnon burst through the Maroon defence two minutes after the game started for the first Habitué tally. Wentworth combined with Jimmy Ward to even the score three minutes later. With only eight minutes left to play, Morenz passed to Joliat for the second goal.

The scoreless game at New York was a dull affair to put before 11,000 faithful American fans. The checking was close and the play slow except for a few minutes during the third and overtime periods.

Teams and summaries follow: Maroons — Connell, Wentworth, Evans, Blinco, Robinson, Trotter, Conacher, Gracie, Ward, Cain, Marker, Radley, McKenzie and Northcott.

Canadiens — Cude, Siebert, Buswell, Morenz, Joliat, Gagnon, Lorrain, Miller, Jenkins, Lepine, Haynes, McGill, G. Mantha, Deslats and Runge. Officials — C. Campbell and Bill Stewart.

SUMMARY First period—1, Canadiens, Gagnon, 2:23; 2, Maroons, Ward (Wentworth), 5:01.

Second period—No score. Penalty: Radley.

Third period—3, Canadiens, Joliat (Morenz), 12:04. Penalty: Siebert.

Shots stopped: Connell ..... 7 12—26 Cude ..... 12 7 7—26

New York — Worters, Shields, Murray, Chapman, Carr, Schirmer, Gallagher, Cotton, L. Jackson, Oliver, Wiseman, Lamb, Emms, Anderson and Doran.

Canuck Grappler Fractures Leg

Washington, Nov. 12. — Yvon Robert, husky Montreal grappler, nursed a broken leg today suffered in last night's match with Cluff Olson, Baudette, Minn. Olson refused to accept the decision. Robert's injury ended the bout after only eight minutes. He weighed 216 and Olson 210.

Will Enlarge Hockey League

San Francisco and Los Angeles Will Play in Coast Loop Next Season

San Francisco, Nov. 13.—Dr. Gordon B. Leitch, president of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, said today the hockey circuit will be extended to include San Francisco and Los Angeles next season.

In an announcement made jointly with C. H. Sooy, San Francisco, Dr. Leitch said arrangements had been made for use of the livestock pavilion building now being built here at a cost of more than $1,000,000. The ice rink will seat about 12,000 spectators.

The Pacific Coast League now includes Vancouver, B.C., Seattle, Portland and Oakland.

THREE HOOP BATTLES ON

Teams Meet This Evening at the High School Gym; First 7.30 o'Clock

A trio of attractive hoop tussles are carded tonight at the High School gym, under the auspices of the Victoria and District Basketball League. The programme includes a senior B match, a women's encounter and a senior C tilt. The show opens at 7.30 o'clock.

Headline the three-game card will be Hoyle-Brown and Jennings Florists, senior B quintettes. Hoyle-Brown is favored to take the tussle.

Cardinals and Unity, women's squads, will battle in the second tilt. The Cards have one victory to their credit, and have lost one game. Unitys have not as yet registered their first league victory.

At 7.30 o'clock Rays will take the floor against Hudson's Bay in a senior C encounter. Ray's formerly in the Oak Bay Merchants, are expected to give the departmentals a good fight.

PLAY-OFFS SET Owing to the small number of clubs in the various divisions of the league, there will only be play-offs in two divisions this year. It was decided yesterday evening at a meeting of the executive.

The play-offs will take place in the senior B men's and intermediate A women's divisions. The men's division will see the first three teams play-off. The second and third teams will meet in a two-game series, total points to count. The winner of this will consist of a two-out-of-three game series.

The play-off in the women's section will consist of a two-out-of-three game series.

In the case of the senior A men's teams, namely the Dominions and Capitals, they will meet ten times during the season.

It was pointed out at the meeting that all clubs must have the amateur cards for their players by November 28. The cards can be secured at the Victoria Sporting Goods Store.

SUNDAY SCHOOL SOCCER Matches scheduled tomorrow in the Sunday School Football League follow: Emmanuel Baptist vs. St. Alban's, Victoria High School. Referee, H. Tooby.

St. Aidan's vs. Lake Hill Mission, Spencers Park. Referee, F. Tooby.

Metropolitans vs. Centennials, Central Park. Referee, P. J. Woodley.

Kick-offs at 2 o'clock. Lake Hill line-up—Adams, Cullen, Coles, Benn, Hayward, Harper, Hawks, Hunt, Newman, Speller, Underwood and Warren.

THE FLOATING TOMB
"Jinx ship," was the muttered comment of sailors on hand when the Great Eastern, monster ship of the nineteenth century, stuck on its iron shipways during its first attempted launching into the Thames River and jinx ship she was destined to be. With a gross tonnage of 18,914 and displacement of 27,384 tons, the super ship of its day had cabin accommodations for 4,000 passengers, the same number the Queen Mary carries today. It is estimated that under was necessity, the Great Eastern could have carried 10,000 troops!

But back to the "jinx." Strange as it seems, the ship carried a corpse on every trip she ever took, for a workman had been trapped in her huge hull during the building. Unknown to anyone, he died there, and his body was not discovered until the ship was scrapped. Carrying such a cargo, easy is it to visualize in the minds of superstitious seamen the cause for the ship's strangely ill-fated career.

When she stuck on her launching shipways, the "Jonah" commenced. Three months it took to finally get the ship into the water after that and the strain the delay caused on the mind of her designer, Isambard Kingdom Brunel, brought on his death ten days after the first engine trials. The company who had financed her construction was forced into liquidation through the expense of the delay and the added money that had to be spent on her launching.

For a short time all went well. The Great Eastern crossed the Atlantic in the then record time of thirteen knots per hour in June, 1869. A year later she almost foundered off Cape Clear, Ireland, causing heavy damage to herself and serious injury to many of her passengers. A complete financial failure as a passenger and freight ship, she was chartered to lay an Atlantic cable in 1865. Even in this menial job she was a failure for the cable broke.

In 1872 she was sold for one-twenty-eighth of the $4,500,000 it had cost to build her. In 1887, the Great Eastern was scrapped for junk.

Tomorrow—Robin's Nest Detour.

M.C.C. Trundlers In Fine Display

Touring English Players Dismiss New South Wales For 273 Runs; Hammond Takes Five Wickets For Thirty-nine; Don Bradman Is Sick

Sydney, Nov. 13.—A late afternoon bowling offensive that spreaded seven New South Wales wickets for sixty-seven runs, halted a dangerous first-innings drive in the initial day of the four-day cricket match with the visiting Marylebone Cricket Club. When stumps were drawn the home team was all out for 273 runs, while M.C.C. scored one run without loss in a few minutes at the wicket.

Walter Hammond, Gloucestershire star, bowled with success, taking five wickets for thirty-nine runs. New South Wales smashed the offerings of the English trundlers before the tea interval, compiling 206 runs for three wickets.

A. A. Ames, Kent wicketkeeper, played up to his old form, showing no signs of recent back trouble. Approximately 10,000 persons turned out in fine, sunny weather.

SHEFFIELD SHIELD Melbourne, Australia, Nov. 13.—Victoria got away to a good start against South Australia in the Sheffield Cricket Shield competition today, hitting out 329 runs for four wickets at the close of the first day's play.

K. E. Rigg led batsmen with ninety-seven.

Don Bradman, who will captain Australia against England in the tests this year, was suffering from a slight attack of ptomaine poisoning, and did not field for South Australia.

LIVELY BOUTS AT BARRACKS

A good turnout of the boxing fraternity's followers was present yesterday evening to witness a down boxing bout presented at the R.C.N. Drill Hall, Naval Barracks, Esplanade. The contestants were willing mixers and gave the fans a good show.

Beneath gained the nod over Fernis in the featherweight division, while the lightweight division saw Mulligan defeat Robinson. Billingsley won the verdict in his battle with Heiberg in a welterweight tilt, while in the same class Ethier punched out a victory over Dow.

Mixing in a middleweight tilt, Applethart was winner over Conway. To other middleweight bouts resulted in Bowditch gaining the decision over Barker, while Tate and Smith fought to a lively draw.

McGoldrick, light-heavyweight, took the measure of Wilkinson. Paul, 160 pounds, was victor over Jennings, 160 pounds. Stoney lost to Arnott.

Freak Pheasant On Display Here

The newest freak in the hunting world is a pheasant that portrays signs of both cock and hen species. It is on display at the taxidermist store of P. W. Tow, 803 Fort Street.

Shot at the beginning of the season on Rithet's farm by Thomas Dick, well-known hunter and dog trainer, the bird has a male neck of green and the cock ring. The breast plumage is half and half. The legs do not show the spurs of a male bird although it is possible to feel them just protruding. The spurs are situated near the feet at the back of the legs. The tall rump and top of head indicate female species.

BROWNS HAVE NEW OWNERS

Syndicate Takes Over St. Louis American League Baseball Club

Chicago, Nov. 13.—St. Louis Browns, for years the weak link in the American Baseball League, were placed in the care of new owners yesterday.

The transfer, involving the franchise and players, became official when five representatives of the St. Louis purchasing syndicate appeared before club owners of the American League in a special meeting to receive unanimous approval.

The syndicate, which purchased the Browns for $325,000 in cash, has been capitalized for $500,000, leaving a balance of $175,000 for development of the team.

The names of eighteen syndicate members were revealed. They are headed by Donald Lee Barnes, investment banker, slated to become president of the new organization, with William O. de Witt, for nineteen years an official of the St. Louis Cardinals' organization, to become vice-president and general manager of the Browns.

The American League, after accepting the new St. Louis club backers, agreed to night baseball for the first time. Because of pressure from the St. Louis Cardinals, who also use the St. Louis Browns' park, lights will be installed and a few games will be played by the Browns next season after sundown.

Rogers Hornsby, manager of the Browns, whose contract at $18,000 a year has two more years to run, undoubtedly will be retained, members of the syndicate said.

age is half and half. The legs do not show the spurs of a male bird although it is possible to feel them just protruding. The spurs are situated near the feet at the back of the legs. The tall rump and top of head indicate female species.

A paper chase will be held tomorrow, leaving the Willows, 2.30 o'clock. All riders invited.

READY FOR BAYS However, tomorrow the sailors expect to give the Bays their toughest opposition in the first half senior race as the rowing club winds up its opening part of the schedule. Robinson or Cockrill will play fullback for the Navy, with "Snakes" Hall and Williams on the wings and "Boy" Paul and Chuck Sweet inside. Bill Smith is listed for stand-off half, with Fred Freeman looking after the scrum which will include Fraser, Rutherford, McKee, Bennett, Nelson, Bamfield, Buxton and Barker.

Vic Painter will replace George Langdon on the Bays wing but the remainder of the team will be approximately the same as that which has carried the rowing club colors to the top of the league. Roddy McInnes will play fullback with Ken Buxton, "Buz" Brown and Ken Fleming joining Painter on the line. Bill Hallett and Wally Stiehl will form the tason link. Harry Peard is scheduled to enter the game as a forward—along with Dickinson, another scrum man, who has been idle to date. Bob Blair, Petticrew, Jack Rutten, Ronnie Burns, Chris Usher and Bert Simpson round out the fifteen.

Percy Sweetman is scheduled to handle the match.

INTERMEDIATE FIXTURES In the intermediate division Canadian Scottish will battle Victoria College at Victoria High School with C. E. Lay in charge, while the Irish Brigade will tackle the Navy at Macdonald Park lower pitch with Benny McMillan blowing the whistle.

Canadian Scottish seniors are slated to play an exhibition game against the Garrison with Phil Willis as referee.

On Sunday the Navy Senior B squad will journey to Duncan to play the Cowichan Club. R. Parker is billed to handle the fixture.

All games are scheduled to start at 3 o'clock.

Juvenile Soccer Juvenile soccer matches scheduled tomorrow follow:

FIRST DIVISION Hill's Corner vs. Britannia Beach Cubs, Victoria West Park; referee, T. Peers.

SECOND DIVISION Esquimalt Meat Market vs. Oak Bay Rovers, Bullen Park; referee, E. Borge.

FOURTH DIVISION Blue Birds vs. St. Louis College, Heywood Avenue; referee, W. Coutta. Esquimalt Meat Market vs. Oak Bay Ramblers, Royal Athletic Park; referee, H. Holmes.

Victoria Athletic Club vs. Oaklands Aves, Victoria West Park; referee, D. McMillan.

Wimpy's Capitals vs. Strawberry Vale, Central Park; referee, L. Knapp. All games commence at 10.30 o'clock.

ANNUAL MEETING The annual meeting of the Royal Juvenile Athletic Association will be held this evening in the Colonist board room at 7.30 o'clock. All team managers, delegates and others interested are invited to attend. Officers for the coming year will be named.

VICTORIA RIDING CLUB A paper chase will be held tomorrow, leaving the Willows, 2.30 o'clock. All riders invited.

English Soccer Leaders Meet Stiff Opposition Tomorrow

Top Portsmouth Will Be Opposed By Huddersfield

Second Place Brentford Travel to Middlesbrough; Many Injuries

Good Games In Scottish Loop

London, Nov. 13.—Steady rains throughout England and Wales this week will make heavy going for footballers tomorrow and teams that rely chiefly on speed will be at a disadvantage. Injuries to several notable players will result in numerous clubs fielding weakened squads.

Leading clubs figure in attractive contests, with Portsmouth the leader, at home to the strong Huddersfield Town team. A lapse by the southerners may let Brentford, runner-up with seventeen points, one less than Portsmouth, Brentford, however, have to make a long journey to Middlesbrough but will put up a strong fight. Sunderland, champion, last season, has an excellent chance against Chelsea at Stamford Bridge.

Manchester City, beset by injuries, meet a strong side in Everton, Tilson, the city's international centre forward, has been unable to play since early in the season and the directors have tried four other players in the position, including Brook, famous left-winger. None has proved satisfactory and efforts are being made to find a new man. Wilson, goal-scoring centre of Hamilton Academicals in the Scottish League, is believed to be the favored player.

Wolverhampton Wanderers, Manchester United and Leeds United, struggling at the bottom of the table, all have hard games. The Wanderers cannot hope for much success at Stoke. Leeds should defeat Preston and the Mancunians will be lucky to snatch a point at Grimsby.

PLAYS FIRST GAME

David Laing, left-wing player for the Porfir Athletic in the Scottish second division, will play his first game for Liverpool against Sheffield Wednesday. He came south of the border this week.

In second division play, Bury, who share the leadership with Blackpool, should overcome Swansea Town. Aston Villa will give Blackpool plenty of trouble, although the seasoners are at home. Bradford City, playing at Blackburn, is trying Jack Deacon, a mine worker, in the forward line. Deacon is a crack shot and playing for the reserves in the last five games has scored three goals on three occasions and netted two in the other two matches.

Luton Town is likely to retain its place at the top of the southern section, third division, at the expense of the fast-slipping Bristol-Rovers, but Chester, pace-setter in the northern section, may not fare so well against Lincoln City, holder of third position.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE

Start Building U.S. Cup Yacht

New York, Nov. 13.—The big task of building a yacht to defend the America's Cup against the challenge of T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavour II next summer has been selected and actual construction is about to begin. The choice of the model was made a few days ago by W. Starling Burgess and Olin J. Stephens, named as co-designers by Harold S. Vanderbilt when he assumed the job of financing the defender. It was learned yesterday they had departed for Bath, Me., where the yacht will be built, and had begun to mark out the lines of the racer on the floor of the ship-building plant.

Scottish Football League this season, was tuned to a fighting pitch today, ready for St. Mirren. The Cathkin Park Club, shooting for its sixth consecutive win, entertains the Saints tomorrow in one of the feature matches of the loop.

In ninth position early in October, Third Lanark scaled four clubs to settle on the fourth rung of the championship ladder last Saturday, one point down from Glasgow Rangers. The hard-fighting Glasgow team has established itself as a threat to any club in the country.

Aberdeen suffered its second reverse in seventeen starts against Inverness Rangers last week-end at Aberdeen. The Dons will have another tough struggle tomorrow, at Tynecastle Park, where they oppose Hearts.

Partick Thistles took a 4 to 1 tumble against Falkirk in its last contest and in the only "berby" of the day meets the runner-up, Celtic, at home. The Celts have two points less than Aberdeen and, despite the away game, may take the Thistles. The Kilmarnock-Rangers tussle at Kilmarnock should see the Glasgow squad triumph. Fresh from a victory over Partick Thistle for the Glasgow Charity Cup, the cupholders have heartened supporters with a revitalized attack.

ATTRACTIVE MATCH

In sixth and seventh positions respectively, Dundee and Motherwell tangle at Motherwell in another attractive match. St. Johnstone and Hamilton Academicals, both strong elevens but placed in the last ten, meet on the former's grounds at Perth, while Falkirk should score its eighth win of the season, against Arbroath, at home.

The remaining games bring together Albion Rovers and Queen's Park, Clyde and Queen of South and Dunfermline and Hibernians.

Leaders in the second division have away games. Morton goes to East Stirling while Ayr United should have no trouble against Edinburgh City.

WRESTLING
Harford, Conn.—Steve Casey, 234, Ireland, defeated Walter Dusek, 220, Omaha, two straight falls.

RUSSELL TO BATTLE SCOT

Chicago Matman Will Engage McIntyre on Local Card Tomorrow Night

Donald McIntyre, husky Scot, will return to Victoria tomorrow for the second portion of the double main event on the wrestling card at the Tillamook gym. His opponent will be Rebel Russell, smart matman from Chicago.

McIntyre is a favorite with local fans, having given a fine account of himself with leading exponents. He is well-versed in the clean ethics of the pastime, and is favored to take his equally as clever opponent. Their bout is listed for six ten-minute rounds, or the best of three falls.

Russell lost to Chief Chivwicki last week, which was the same verdict for McIntyre when he met Fraley. The other half of the double feature will bring together Pat Fraley, Nebraska, and Chivwicki. Fireworks galore should be evident when these two local matmen Chivwicki delights in handling out the rough stuff, and it is expected the clean Nebraska will have to abandon his ethical role for a night to counteract the Chief's offensives. The match is also for six ten-minute rounds, or best of three falls.

Leo Burke, Tacoma, will be here to take on Louie Newman, local youngster, in the special bout. A local preliminary will open the show at 8.45 o'clock.

Regina Grid Team Draws Criticism

Toronto Officers of Canadian Rugby Union Solidly Against Western Champions Using U.S. Imports in Canadian Final; Are Classed as an American Squad

Toronto, Nov. 13.—No encouragement will be forthcoming from Toronto officers of the Canadian Rugby Union in regard to the recommendation of President E. A. Hardy, Saskatoon, that it reconsider for this year the rule demanding former United States players reside in Canada at least a year prior to October 1 of the current playing season.

If approved by the C.R.U. the recommendation would permit Regina Rough Riders, western champions, to participate in the Dominion final, using five United States players ineligible under the ruling. John De Gruchy, immediate past president; Bobby Hewitson, secretary; and W. Foulds, first vice-president, all opposed the president's suggestion.

De Gruchy said the recommendation "absolutely will not be allowed." WOULD SPOIL GAME
"The Rough Riders are purely an American team," continued De Gruchy. "We might just as well bring any team from the United States for the Dominion final. If we allow football to get down to this stage it would spoil the Canadian championship and discourage young Canadians from playing the game."

"We have nothing against the individual players and think them to be fine men, but they should first prove they intend to become Canadian citizens before being allowed to compete in finals for championships of this country."

Hewitson took a similar stand. As western officials were present at the passing of the rule he could see no reason why they should wish a change at this time.

Autumn Cup Taken By Young England

Liverpool, Nov. 13.—R. Bowness's Young England today won the Liverpool Autumn Cup by a margin of two lengths over H. J. Simms's Payrette. W. H. Thrope's Inchkeith was third, another two lengths back.
Young England was quoted at 9 to 1, Payrette and Inchkeith both at 100 to 6.
Seventeen ran over the course of one mile two furlongs 170 yards.

NEWS IN BRIEF

E. E. Lloyd, retired C.P.R. vice-president and treasurer, Montreal, is holidaying at the Empress Hotel with Mrs. Lloyd. They propose to stay here a month.

In an interhigh school league match played yesterday Victoria High School defeated the Esquimalt High School 1 to 0. Morton scored two minutes before the final whistle.

A whist drive will be held by the Victoria Social Credit Association in place of the Friday night lecture. This will be held at the Women's Institute Rooms, 635 1/2 Fort Street, November 13. Refreshments will be served by the ladies.

The Victoria Short Wave Club will hold its annual meeting at 1319 Franklin Terrace next Saturday evening, when members will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Cunningham. Officers for the coming year will be elected.

Members of the City School Board yesterday evening were invited to attend a lecture in the High School auditorium on November 18 at 2:30 p.m. to hear Clement May, famed humorist, who will address "The A.B.C. of Social Credit" by E. S. Holter, will be discussed.

Ward Four of the Social Credit League will hold its study meeting in Room 224, Pemberton Building, next Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The first two chapters of "The A.B.C. of Social Credit" by E. S. Holter, will be discussed.

John Irwin, 927 Woodland Street, sustained minor injuries to his left ankle when the bicycle he was riding was struck by an automobile on Douglas Street near the Hudson's Bay Company store yesterday evening. The driver of the car did not stop.

Rev. J. Wesley Lee of Chicago will hold a ten days' evangelistic mission in the Douglas Street Baptist Church, beginning Sunday morning. Mr. Lee is a gifted speaker and Bible teacher and comes to Victoria highly recommended by the Christian Business Men's committee of Seattle.

Representatives of the City School Board will shortly meet the finance committee of the City Council to urge sympathetic hearing of the trustees' request for $400 for the maintenance of the Oakes tennis courts. The trustees ask the money be allotted out of the $100,000 loan from the provincial government.

An acetylene cutting torch, three fountain pens and two cartons of electric light bulbs were stolen from the Marine Iron Works yesterday, according to a report left with city police today. Entry to the shop was presumably gained through the wood chute at the rear of the premises.

Fifty-three beer parlor licenses have been granted in British Columbia in the last three years, adding to William Copley, all of Victoria; Attorney-General Sloan informed the B.C. Legislature in answer to questions of R. H. Pooley, K.C. Unionist, Esquimalt. The board had three inspectors of beer parlors.

Adjournment to Monday was ordered in the City Police Court today in four cases in which drivers are charged with exceeding the speed limit of fifteen miles an hour while passing school zones. Appearing before Magistrate Henry Hall today, the four drivers all entered pleas of not guilty.

A meeting of the directors of the Esquimalt Playgroup Association will be held in Esquimalt, Oct. 4, George I. Warren, publicity commissioner, has been advised. Sixty-three community leaders and newspaper editors of Oregon and Washington will be the guests of the association to learn of its work and objectives.

Convicted on a charge of using threatening language, David Burnett was bound over to keep the peace by Magistrate Hall in City Police Court today. The magistrate ordered post-bond of $250 each by two sureties. In default he will serve ten days.

Due to the fact that Dr. W. Pascoe is lecturing in the city the usual meeting of the British-Israel Middle Temple Guild will not be held on Monday next. For the following week the speaker will be Rev. Canon Joshua Hinchliffe, who will lecture on "Patriotism." The canon will take the place of E. E. Richards, who is on a lecture tour across Canada.

The aviation class of the technical school was addressed by Squadron Leader Earl MacLeod yesterday evening. George Broadner, superintendent of schools; John Kyle, director of technical education for British Columbia; and Ernest Ewe, aviation instructor, were among those present. The aviation class is being held as part of the night school courses at the Victoria High School.

The Big Bend Lumber Company at Nakup, headed by Captain C. S. Leary, Liberal, Kaslo-Slocan, was receiving large subsidies from the government by way of industrial loan. Mrs. D. G. Stevens, C.C.F., North Vancouver, declared in the British Columbia Legislature yesterday morning: "It looks to me that public credit and public money are being used to bolster up a bankrupt business. The government is laying itself open to suspicion."

Magistrate Henry Hall's ruling on the city's cow by-law will be handed down in city police court a week today. Five cases are now before the court, under the by-law which aims to restrict the number of cows which may be kept in the city by various dairymen. The magistrate today stated he had read the authorities quoted by both sides but was not prepared to give a decision until after further study of the matter.

The spirit of Armistice prevailed at the weekly meeting of the Obysps, held on Tuesday evening in the Oak Bay United schoolroom. Miss Sheila Murray gave the devotional reading and Miss Dorothy Parnsworth, accompanied by Miss Mary Sinclair, sang a solo. After a short business meeting Miss Dora Curtis introduced the speaker of the evening, H. T. Locke, who was one of the members of the Vimy Pilgrimage. There will be no meeting of the society next week.

Hospitals Group Returns Officers

E. W. Neel Elected President For Third Term as Convention Closes; Plea For New Deal in Nursing Training Is Heard

E. W. Neel, Duncan, was re-elected president of the British Columbia Hospitals Association for the third term this morning as the association closed its three-day annual convention at the Empress Hotel.

Other officers were also returned for the coming year. They are: Honorary president, Hon. G. M. Weir, provincial secretary; first vice-president, E. S. Withers, New Westminster; second vice-president, J. O. Nichols, Nanaimo, and secretary-treasurer, J. H. McVety, Vancouver.

There was only one change in the list of regional representatives on the executive committee, the election of G. A. McKay, Kelowna, to replace Mr. J. H. McVety, Vancouver. Other representatives are: Vancouver Island, A. F. Glen, Ladysmith; Vancouver City, J. M. Condy; Coast Mainland, W. G. McKenzie, Powell River; Fraser Valley, Mrs. W. S. Knight, Mission; Yale-Cariboo, S. M. Coier, Kamloops; Kootenay West, Miss V. B. Edt, R.N.; Nelson; Kootenay East, Miss Mary Clarke, Cranbrook, and Grand Trunk, H. W. Birch, Prince Rupert.

Hugh Allen, Victoria, was appointed convener of the standing committee on business affairs, succeeding Percy Ward, North Vancouver; Mrs. J. P. Thean, Victoria, succeeds Mrs. A. C. Wilkes, Vancouver, who asked to be permitted to retire from the convener of the women's auxiliaries committee after many years of service. Miss E. Clarke, R.N., New Westminster, takes the place of Miss G. M. Fairley, R.N., as convener of the nursing affairs committee. Dr. A. K. Haywood, Vancouver, and E. C. Smith were re-elected heads, respectively, of the medical affairs and constitution and by-laws groups.

HOSPITAL BY-LAWS In the course of the brief business meeting which concluded the last session of the convention, the executive was empowered to consider the preparation of a standard set of by-laws for all hospitals in the province. An increase in membership fees payable by hospitals was voted. The maximum fee, for hospitals of 500 beds or over, was raised from $25 to $100 yearly. Institutions in other size categories had their fees doubled.

Resolutions of thanks were passed to the committee on health insurance, to the Royal Jubilee and St. Joseph's hospitals, to the officers and members who prepared the programme, and to speakers who took part in the convention sessions. A special resolution was also adopted paying tribute to the work of hospital ladies' auxiliaries in the province.

NURSING CURRICULUM The earlier part of the session was given over to a discussion of the proposed new curriculum for schools of nursing, and in general the session took the form of a prolonged plea for a new deal for nurses' training in hospitals.

Miss A. MacLeod, R.N., chairman of the nursing education section of the Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia, put forward a picture of a centralized provincial nurses' school in connection with the University of British Columbia, or planned along the lines of the Provincial Normal School.

Before the new curriculum could be introduced to full advantage, the nursing school of the province needed a thorough reorganization, she believed.

The required changes which she listed were: the placing of more emphasis on the selection of well-qualified teachers, supervisors and head nurses; a more thorough teaching of the fundamental sciences; more and better instruction on the nurse's relations with children, and in home and community cases; better instruction in the mental aspect of health and disease; greater emphasis on the function of the nurse as a teacher of health; more special study of nutrition, normal and special; more and better clinical teaching; a period of properly planned and supervised community experience; more opportunity for the development of resourcefulness and character; and more encouragement for cultural and social life on the part of the student nurse.

To permit the fullest adaptation of this programme needed, closer co-operation between all branches of the hospital, and for clinical experience segregation of various types of hospital service was essential, although difficult, she said.

Miss MacLeod concluded with a question: "Are our students really getting all the education they are entitled to?"

CONFLICT OF NEEDS The chief stumbling block is the conflict between the needs of the hospital and the needs of the education of nurses, said Miss Christine Murray, R.N., instructor of nurses at the Jubilee Hospital, in opening the discussion on the subject.

Too often the needs of the hospital were so to interfere with the education of the students, with the result that young women who left school to enter nursing were turned out as automatons rather than as educated beings in the full sense of the word.

To make the curriculum a success required both good soil and good seed. In many cases the young women who entered nursing were those who had not the mental capabilities to succeed in other work. She deplored this condition.

Intelligence, sound judgment, character and personality were as essential in nursing as in any other field, perhaps more so, she said.

With regard to the teaching provided, too often the arduous duties of hospital work interfered with studies, and the students did not have enough time for preparation.

This new curriculum, she said, was not planned to increase the extent of the nurses' studies, but so to adapt them, making use of the best human material, that the nurse could be capable of taking her full place in the community.

"It is not only the care of the patients of today, but the care of the patients of tomorrow that is concerned," said Miss G. M. Fairley, R.N., chairman for the discussion. She believed the provision of better training facilities for nurses would work to the eventual benefit of hospitals.

Several other delegates joined in the discussion.

C.C.F. Finance Plan Explained

To Distribute State-owned Goods, Says Harold Winch

"Socialized finance" in the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation platform is the plank under which the party, if elected, would use a medium of exchange to distribute state-owned commodities which the government would take over.

This was the official explanation given to the British Columbia Legislature this morning by Harold Winch, C.C.F., Vancouver East. It had been approved, he said, by the provincial executive of the party.

"So," said Mr. Winch, "don't go away from here and say that the C.C.F. is going social credit or is going to issue scrip or anything like that."

"The socialization of the medium of exchange would come after the socialization of industries," he said.

"Whatever means we used would be used to distribute socially-owned commodities to the people after they became socially owned."

Defending the platform drafted by the party last summer, Mr. Winch said the C.C.F. was ready to appeal "on every plank." It would take over the gasoline business, the liquor and brewing business and public utilities.

"We've got to have control over companies supplying the public like this," he said, declaring the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, which he claimed had millions and millions of watered stock, was a good example.

Veterans' Club Activities

The Veterans' Assistance Commission from Ottawa, which has been touring the country hearing representations of returned soldiers, will be in Victoria on Monday. The delegation will hold a session in the City Hall on that day, starting at 9 o'clock in the morning. The committee consists of Col. J. R. Ratray, C.M.G., Ottawa, chairman; Robert Macnicol, Vancouver, provincial secretary of the B.C. Canadian Legion, and Lieut.-Col. H. L. de Martigny, Montreal. The session is expected to last all day.

The Christmas activities of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion are already taking form. At a meeting of the ways and means committee held last night it was decided to hold the annual children's Christmas tree on December 18, at the Foresters' Hall, Cormorant Street. The affair will be open to members and their children of twelve years or younger.

Entries for the Britannia Branch's billiard and snooker turkey tourney will close on November 21. The contest will start on November 23. A large number of members are expected to compete. The prizes will consist of turkeys.

The next of kin committee meeting of the Britannia Branch, billed for this evening, has been postponed until further notice, the secretary reported this morning.

The general monthly meeting of the Naval Veterans' Branch of the Canadian Legion will be held on Friday, November 20, in the club quarters, corner of Johnson and Broad Streets, at 8 o'clock. A full turnout of members is requested.

Three meetings are listed for next week by the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada. On Tuesday evening the executive will meet at 8 o'clock, while at 7 o'clock the same night the finance committee will hold session. The general monthly meeting will be held Thursday night at 8 o'clock. The meetings will be held in the headquarters, corner of Broughton and Wharf Streets.

Married in Brandon Fifty-two Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Paterson, 1010 Craigdarroch Road, are today receiving congratulations on their fifty-second wedding anniversary.

Mr. Paterson, who is manager of the Victoria branch of the B.C. Telephone Co., is also today celebrating the forty-ninth anniversary of his appointment as manager of the Bell Telephone Co. in Brandon, Man.

Mr. and Mrs. Paterson were married in Brandon.

HEAR EXPERT ON LOGGING

Effect of Selective System on Sooke Watershed Discussed in Committee

Expert evidence on the effect of selective logging on the city's Sooke Lake watershed was given before the private bills committee of the B.C. Legislature this morning by John E. Leirsch, forester.

Mr. Leirsch said only from 5 to 10 per cent of the timber on the watershed was over-mature timber and would be logged. Selection cutting would not denude the timber at all.

By logging in this way European countries had kept their forests on a sustained yield basis for 300 years. Questioned whether small trees would be damaged in the process of taking out the large ones, Mr. Leirsch said:

"It all depends on the quality of each particular stand. If there are a lot of big trees in one group and a few small ones, naturally the small ones will be damaged. Where the small trees predominate, the big ones can be taken out without much damage to the other growth."

Mr. Leirsch said the logging operation might eventually be beneficial to the watershed timber, but not necessarily of benefit immediately.

B.C. FISHING IS REVIEWED

Phenomenal Fraser River Catch No Indication of Permanent Return, Says Official

The phenomenal salmon run on the Fraser River this year is no indication that this area is returning to former high returns because combined figures of Canadian and United States catches for 1936 are below the average of the last five years, G. J. Alexander, deputy commissioner of fisheries, told the fisheries committee of the Legislature this morning.

To get a proper perspective of the Fraser catch, Mr. Alexander said it was necessary to total the Canadian and United States catches and compare them with former years. While Canadian fishermen had an unusually successful year the United States boats had a very low catch. The combined figures indicated the 1936 catch

GET LOADS OF LETTERS FROM MEN saying that the reason they do not marry is because they cannot find the kind of a girl they want for a wife. They assert that what they desire is a quiet, modest, home-loving girl whose favorite indoor sport is cooking; who takes no interest in style shows or beauty shops; who will save her husband's money and darn his socks; and where is she? Where is this rare avis in these days of wild women and clothes-horses and wise-cracking coeds and business girls who can make out an income report without making an error, but who can't make coffee that isn't rank poison?

Well, a man doesn't need to be a Sherlock Holmes to locate the domestic paragon he professes to want for a wife. She is in the next block, or she is just around the corner, spending her evenings in the bosom of her family reading an improving book, because no man ever dates her. Or if a man can't find her for himself, his mother can put her finger right on her. She is that nice Mary Brown, who is her mother's little helper, who has taken a prize with her cakes and who makes her own clothes and trims her own hats so that they cost her hardly anything, whom mother has been throwing under his feet for the last two years without his ever noticing her enough to see that she was his ideal.

Oh, there are plenty of good, domestic, economical girls who would make the kind of wives whose price is above rubies. They are not an extinct species by any means, but the reason men don't find them is because they don't look for them in the right places. They don't go seeking them in their family circles, or at church suppers, or at uplift movements, or in self-improvement clubs.

No, the man who is seeking for a wife who will be a homemaker hunts for her at night clubs, at supper parties, in cocktail bars, theatre lounges, and the other haunts of fashion and frivolity, which is about as intelligent as it would be to seek orchids in the Arctic Circle.

Another reason that men cannot find the kind of wives they want is because they demand the impossible. They want wives who combine in their own proper persons every antagonistic characteristic. They want wives who are both Mariannes and Mary Annes; wives who are brilliant and showy, yes meek and humble; wives who can play on the piano with one hand and perform on the gas range with the other; wives who can look like a million dollars on fifty cents. There isn't any such animal.

Look at the way men go about selecting their wives! Do they pick out the kind of wives that they need and can afford? Not at all. They choose something that hits their taste and then they fancy without any reference whatever to its practicability. Then they complain that they are disappointed in their wives who are just exactly what they always were.

Most men, for instance, want wives who will be thrifty and economical and save their money instead of blowing it in on fine clothes and beauty treatments, but are they irresistibly attracted to the drab little wren who looks as if she had grown her own feathers? Not a bit of it. It is the Daily Hint from Paris that catches their eyes and, as every girl knows, a pink chiffon will do more toward getting her a husband than will the whole category of domestic virtues.

Every man wants his wife to be a homebody. Yet, as I have already pointed out, he seldom makes an effort to snatch the dutiful daughter away from papa and mamma. He lets her stay to comfort them while he steps out with some girl who regards home as merely a place in which to change her clothes.

Nor are there any wives who are often cursed with phandering husbands than those women whose interests are confined to the four walls of their homes, and whose whole conversational line consists of what Johnny said, and the cute things the baby did, and the price of groceries.

So, perhaps, the reason that men cannot find the wives they want is because they ask too much of poor, frail, human women. They want wives who are domestic and frugal and good cooks, yet they expect them to be glamorous, entertaining, amusing and beautifully dressed. And there are mighty few women who combine all of these attractions.

Uncle Wiggily And the Birds' Party

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Come on, Twisty! Run! Run!" cried Uncle Wiggily.

"Where shall we run?" grunted the fat pig gentleman.

"Some place where my wife can't watch me playing red marbles," answered the rabbit gentleman. "Come on! Grab up the red marbles and we'll run!"

Mr. Twistytail was no more anxious to be caught by Mrs. Longears than was her husband. So the fat pig gentleman picked up some of the red marbles off the ground. Uncle Wiggily picked up more of them and with obedient hop followed the pig.

"We'll find another place to play," said Uncle Wiggily.

"I-I hope so—so!" panted the pig. Being fat he lost his breath much sooner than did Uncle Wiggily when there was any running to be done.

"It's still coming after us!" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"No, I don't see her," answered Mr. Twistytail. "I'm looking back."

As for Mrs. Longears, she had given up the chase. She had no sooner caught sight of her husband and the pig than she left them. They ran away as soon as they saw her coming.

"I know Wiggily must be up to some mischief, or he wouldn't have run that way," said Mrs. Longears as she hopped back to the bungalow.

"I know Wiggily must be up to some mischief, or he wouldn't have run that way," said Mrs. Longears as she hopped back to the bungalow.

ASKS IF HE WAS CAUGHT

"Did you catch Daddy?" asked Jingle as her mother returned.

"No, I didn't," said Mrs. Longears, short breath like.

"Did you see him?" Jingle wanted to know.

"Oh, yes," said the rabbit lady. "It was just as you twins told me. Your father—he never told me he was ready to play marbles with a fat pig, why, let him."

Nurse Jane started from the bungalow, where she was sitting, and ran to the door.

"To find Uncle Wiggily and stop him from being so silly as to play red marbles with a pig," squeaked Nurse Jane. "I'll find him."

"Perhaps you may," said Mrs. Longears. "So off Nurse Jane started. It wasn't that she or Mrs. Longears thought it wrong for Uncle Wiggily to play marbles. They just didn't like to have him act so much as if he were still a boy rabbit."

NURSE JANE FINDS THEM

So it happened that just as Mr. Twistytail and Uncle Wiggily had reached a quiet place in the woods, and had, once more, started to play the childish game, along came Nurse Jane. Her long tail dragging amid the dried leaves made a rustling noise.

"Uncle Wiggily heard it."

"Oh, my goodness!" said Nurse Jane, exclaimed.

"Here comes my muskrat lady housekeeper. She's after me! Why don't they want me to play marbles? Well, we're caught, I guess. There are so many red marbles on the ground we never can pick them up. Nurse Jane will surely see them and she'll tell my wife."

"Leave it to me!" said the pig boldly. And when Nurse Jane came closer and asked, sort of accusing like, what Uncle Wiggily was doing, Mr. Twistytail spoke up and said:

"He is giving a party for the birds."

"A party for the birds?" exclaimed Nurse Jane surprised like. So was Uncle Wiggily. This was the first he had heard of that. He looked curiously at his fat pig friend. And what happened after that I'll tell you tomorrow night.

The story will be about Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane's surprise. That is if the during brush will go to the barber's and get a haircut and a shave.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1936

Benefic aspects today, which is read as equally fortunate for men and women. According to astrology the stars encourage independent initiative for those who would remind successful candidates of precision.

This date is inauspicious for interviewing anyone whose favor or goodwill is desired. It is not promising for those who would attempt to make a recommendation to the average woman, but girls should be taught to be self-supporting.

Great and constructive projects are to be pushed at this time, when men of superior ability will be sought. Naval engineers will be in demand as well as experts in airplane construction.

Success comes under a planetary direction that is read as most promising to young Americans, many of whom will serve in foreign countries.

As December draws near, movements of population will be widespread in the United States. The trailer tourists will present complex problems in Florida and California.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the anxiety of a year of progress that assures money and popularity. Women should be extremely fortunate.

Children born on this day probably will be uncommonly clever and many will be devoted to the study of the sciences.

John McCullough, actor, was born on this day, 1857. Others who have celebrated a birthday include a Sunday school teacher, 1903, and Jenkin Lloyd Jones, clergyman and writer, 1843.
